The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtick.

By the HONOURABLE
WILLIAM DENNY, Eſq;
Lieutenant-Governor, and Commander in Chief, of the Province of Pennſylvania, and Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex, upon Delaware,

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS this Government, earneſtly deſiring, to the utmoſt of its Power, to promote and aſſiſt the vigorous Meaſures concerted to improve the great and important Advantages gained by His Majeſty's Arms the laſt Campaign, hath provided, by Act of Aſſembly, for raiſing and paying Two Thouſand Seven Hundred effective Men, Officers included, to act in Conjunction with a Body of His Majeſty's Britiſh Forces, and thoſe of Maryland, Virginia, and the Lower Counties, on Delaware, in ſuch offenſive Operations as ſhall be proſecuted by His Majeſty's Commander in Chief in theſe Parts; and, as an Encouragement to Perſons to inliſt voluntarily, for the enſuing Campaign, hath granted to each able bodied private Man, entering voluntarily into the Service, SIX POUNDS Bounty Money, as a free Gift for his Inliſtment; and NINE POUNDS Advance Money, to enable him to purchaſe Cloathing, to be hereafter deducted out of his Pay: And to each Officer, properly authoriſed to inliſt Men, Twenty Shillings, for every able bodied Volunteer he ſhall inliſt into the Service, after he has paſſed Muſter, with the following Rates of Pay to the Non-commiſſion Officers and Men, viz. To Serjeants Two Shillings per Day, to Corporals and Drummers One Shilling and Eight-pence per Day; and to each private Man Forty-five Shillings per Month. I have therefore thought fit, by Proclamation, to make this known to all His Majeſty's Subjects, earneſtly inviting them to inliſt, and promiſing to all Officers Preferment ſuitable to their Diligence and Activity in raiſing their Companies expeditiouſly: And to all private Men the Bounty, and other Encouragements beforementioned. Brigadier General STANWIX likewiſe promiſes and engages, that the Provincial Forces ſhall be treated in the ſame Manner as His Majeſty's regular troops are under his Command, with reſpect to Proviſions and Ammunition, and that according to their good Behaviour, which he cannot doubt of, he will give them all Sorts of Encouragement, and that, in every Reſpect, they ſhall have Juſtice done them. Wherefore, in this urgent and deciſive Criſis, when the future Safety and Welfare of America, and of this Province in particular, are at Stake, it is hoped, and earneſtly deſired, that all Magiſtrates, Miniſters of the Goſpel, and others, will, as much as in them lies, exert themſelves in their ſeveral Diſtricts in engaging and animating a Number of Volunteers for this Service, in ſuch due Time as may render the preſent Expedition ſucceſsful, and effectually ſecure a laſting Peace and Tranquility.

GIVEN under my Hand, and the Great Seal of the ſaid Province, at Philadelphia, the Twenty-firſt Day of April, in the Year of our Lord One Thouſand Seven Hundred and Fifty-nine, and in the Thirty-ſecond Year of His Majeſty's Reign.

WILLIAM DENNY.

By his Honour's Command,
RICHARD PETERS, Secretary.

GOD Save the KING.

JEFFERY AMHERST, Eſq;
Major-General, and Commander in Chief of all His MAJESTY's FORCES in North-America, &c. &c. &c.

ALL Officers abſent, either a Recruiting, or with Leave; as likewiſe all recruiting Parties, and Men upon Furlough, of any of the Regiments ſerving in North-America, that may not have ſeen the General's former Orders for their immediate joining their reſpective Corps, or who were then not included in that Order, are hereby directed to join their reſpective Corps without any Delay.

By His Excellency's Command,

Philadelphia, March 28, 1759.

By Brigadier-General STANWIX,
Commanding His MAJESTY's FORCES in the SOUTHERN PROVINCES.

IT having been repreſented to me, That there are many Perſons who have furniſhed CARRIAGES for the Uſe of His Majeſty's Troops, or delivered Flour or other Proviſions by Weight at Pittſburgh; all ſuch Perſons, upon Delivery of their Certificates, ſigned by the Commanding Officer of Pittſburgh, to Sir John Sinclair, Deputy Quarter-Maſter-General, by the Perſons appointed in the different Counties to receive them, ſhall be immediately paid. Likewiſe all thoſe who have Claims for various Services, performed on the Enterprize to Fort Duqueſne, under the Command of the late Brigadier-General JOHN FORBES, who, for want of knowing where to apply, their juſt Demands have not been ſatisfied. And all Perſons concerned in furniſhing Carriages, Horſes, Forage, &c. for the ſaid Expedition, upon their Accounts being delivered to Sir John Sinclair, by their reſpective Waggon-Maſters, Horſe-Maſters, and others concerned, in order to be examined, ſhall be paid, as ſoon as theſe Accounts can poſſibly be adjuſted.

JOHN STANWIX.

Philadelphia, May 2, 1759.

ALL Perſons who have any Demands againſt the Government, for Services done in the Expedition under the late GENERAL FORBES, are deſired to bring in their Accounts forthwith to the Commiſſioners now ſitting at Lancaſter, that they may be ſettled and adjuſted. JOHN ST. CLAIR, Dep. Quar. Maſ. Gen.

On Sunday laſt arrived here, in a very ſhort Paſſage, the Ship Suſannah, Captain Rankin, from Newry, by whom we have the following Advices.

PETERSBURGH, January 27.

THE Empreſs has given poſitive Orders to her Generals to be ready to take the Field early, and effectually to ſecond the Operations of her Allies. Her Imperial Majeſty, the better to enable her Army to fulfil that important End, has ſent it conſiderable Reinforcements, by which it will ſoon be joined; and it is reckoned that it will be near 100,000 ſtrong. Great Quantities of warlike Stores and Proviſions have been ſent to it by Sea.

Madrid, Jan. 29. The Letters received this Morning from Villa Vicioſa adviſe, that His Majeſty's Fever has been, for theſe two Days paſt, at a much greater Height than uſual; and that Yeſterday he fainted away two different times, in ſuch a Manner that it was thought he would have expired inſtantly.

They write from Liſbon, that great Numbers of People are daily taken up there, on Suſpicion of being concerned in the late Conſpiracy; and that a ſecond Execution is talked of as terrible as the firſt.

Parma, Jan. 31. The great Preparations which have been for ſome Time making by the King of Sardinia, begin to make us uneaſy, eſpecially as we know that that Prince, in caſe of the King of Spain's Death, intends to avail himſelf of his former Claims to the Dutchy of Placentia; and, on the other Hand, we have Advice, that he is laying up great Quantities of Proviſion, Forage, and all other Things neceſſary for the Subſiſtance of a large Army, in ſome of the Places belonging to him along the Po.

Hamburgh, Feb. 12. According to the laſt Advices from Dantzick, the Inhabitants were under great Conſternation on Account of the Motions of the Ruſſian Troops, the Ruſſian Reſident having ſignified to the Magiſtrates, that his Miſtreſs was much diſſatisfied with the little Regard they had paid to their Neutrality, and that ſhe ſhould take her Opportunity to revenge the Affront offered to her Army, by the Reluctance that was ſhewn to the ſupplying of it with Proviſions. Their Apprehenſions have lately increaſed, on receiving Advice that the Ruſſians have a conſiderable Train of Artillery with them.

Feb. 16. It is reported here that the Chevalier de la Touche, who was ſome Years ago Envoy Extraordinary from France at the Court of Berlin, is now at Breſlau, and that he is commiſſioned to make ſeveral Propoſitions to the King of Pruſſia, and among the reſt, that of a Suſpenſion of Arms for ſix Months, during which Time Means may be found to bring about a general Reconciliation.

Dreſden, Feb. 6. A ſort of epidemical Diſtemper, which broke out about the End of the laſt Campaign in ſeveral Places in this Electorate, on the Borders of Bohemia, continues to make great Havock. In order to hinder it from ſpreading farther, the Pruſſians have been obliged to place ſtrong Detachments at Dippolſwalde, and ſome other adjacent Places, which are forbid to ſuffer any Perſon to paſs without a proper Certificate.

Vienna, Feb. 7. Letters from Warſaw adviſe, that General Fermor has received expreſs Orders to begin his Operations ſoon. After the Arrival of the Reinforcements expected from Samogitia, his Army will conſiſt of 98,229 Men.

Dreſden, Feb. 8. By the laſt Letters from Warſaw we hear, that the Count de Rex, one of the King our Sovereign's Counſellors of State, had ſet out for the Court of London; and it is ſaid he has a Commiſſion to negotiate a Marriage between the new Duke of Courland and the Princeſs Auguſta, eldeſt Daughter of the late Prince of Wales.

Hanover, Feb. 12. The Militia and Invalids of this Country are going to be formed into 7 Battalions, of 660 Men each, and are to be put upon the ſame Footing as the regular Troops. Two of theſe Battalions, it is ſaid, are to be ſent to Magdebourg with the Militia of Heſſe, to ſupply the Place of ſome Pruſſian Regiments, which are to join the Army of Prince Iſenbourg. It is pretended that certain Advice has been received, that the French have detached 15000 Men from their Army upon the Lower Rhine, to go to Flanders, and the Coaſt of Normandy, for their Defence, in caſe they ſhould be attacked by the Engliſh.

Altena, Feb. 13. The Pruſſian Troops, under General Dohna, finding it impoſſible, on account of the Rigour of the Seaſon, to conquer the reſt of Swediſh Pomerania, are returned into the Diſtrict of Mecklenbourg, to recover themſelves after their Fatigues, having left behind a Body of Troops, to watch the Motions of the Garriſon of Stralſund.

Cleves, Feb. 24. The Marquis d'Armentieres, who commands the French Army upon the Lower Rhine, has ordered ſeveral new Redoubts to be made, and has taken ſeveral other Precautions ſince he received Advice that Prince Ferdinand of Brunſwick propoſed to open the Campaign with the Siege of Weſel.

Hague, Feb. 20. The laſt Letters from Hanover, dated the 16th Inſtant, adviſe, that Part of the Allied Army was in Motion, and marching directly towards the Landgraviate of Heſſe-Caſſel.

Paris, Feb. 16. The Court having received certain advice, that the powerful Fleet which the Engliſh are fitting out at Portſmouth will be ready to put to Sea in a few Days, has ſent Orders to the Commanders of the Troops and Places on the coaſt of Normandy and Britanny, to be upon their Guard.

Breſt, Feb. 7. Great Numbers of Seamen arrive here from all Parts demanding Service. We have more Sailors than enough to man the 28 Ships of the Line, and 12 Frigates, which will be at Sea in the Month of April, to hinder the Engliſh from inſulting the Coaſts of the Kingdom, which are at preſent guarded by ſix Sloops of War.

Hamburgh, Feb. 16. By Letters from Stettin, of the 10th Inſtant, we learn that the Court of Sweden had ſent poſitive Orders to the Magiſtrates of Stralſund to raiſe 150,000 Rixdollars for the Service of the Garriſon, which conſiſts of 14,000 Men (not 17,000, as was ſaid by Miſtake) which Sum is to be reimburſed to the Magiſtrates. It is alſo ſaid, that the Burghers are required to furniſh the Garriſon with all Neceſſaries, and that theſe Exactions cauſe great Diſcontent; Fuel in particular being extremely ſcarce and dear.

Toulon, Feb. 4. We work Sundays and Holidays in our Arſenal. The Oiſeau Frigate is juſt launched; and it is thought the Modeſte Man of War will be ready to launch by the 15th of this Month. Two Veſſels, laden with 52 Pieces of Cannon, arrived here laſt Thurſday, under the Eſcort of the Requin Xebeque.

Rome, Feb. 3. In Conſequence of the Diſpoſitions that are making by the Court of Naples, for the Encampment of Troops at Fondi, St. Germano, Sezza, &c. and of the Intimation ſent by that Court both to the Duke of Soro, and to the Superior of the Convent of Monte-Caſino, to make the neceſſary Diſpoſitions for that Purpoſe, the Pope has ſent Inſtructions to the Governors and Magiſtrates of the reſpective Towns and Villages on the Borders of the Eccleſiaſtical State, to uſe the neceſſary Vigilance and Precaution that the Occaſion requires. Count Burgos, who is to command the Neapolitan Troops, deſigns, it is ſaid, to fix his Head-Quarters at Monte-Caſino.

Hanover, Feb. 6. We hear from the advanced Poſts which cover Hanover, Heſſe, and the Country of Brunſwick, that the Enemy attempted to ſurprize them with a conſiderable Body of Troops; but that finding our People on their Guard, they abandoned their Enterprize.

Gera, Feb. 8. The Troops of the Empire are ſtill in Poſſeſſion of Schmolkalden, and its Neighbourhood; where they inſiſt on the ſame Subſiſtance that the Hanoverians require in the Biſhopricks of Paderborn and Munſter; and they have, moreover, demanded of that Country a Contribution of 20,000 Crowns.

Dreſden, Feb. 9. Thurſday arrived here 200 Swedes, made Priſoners at Anclam and Demin, who have entered into the Pruſſian Service. They are lodged in Count Bruhl's Palace, till they can be diſtributed to different Regiments.

Eyſenach, Feb. 15. The Money that was lately taken from the Pruſſians, by a Detachment of Auſtrian Huſſars, and ſent to Erfurth, by Order of Maj. Gen. Gauſco, has been carried back again to Dreſden, at the Requeſt of that City, which, notwithſtanding the Pains taken to fortify it and its Citadel, called Peterſberg, the Inhabitants were afraid would not protect them long from having that Money levied again with Intereſt.

Hague, Feb. 20. The Britiſh Miniſter, Mr. Yorke, having lately received two Couriers from London, is to preſent this Day a Memorial to the States General. We do not know what it will contain, but from ſome Words that have eſcaped him, we apprehend it will not be more ſatisfactory than the laſt. In that Caſe there is no Doubt that we ſhall take thoſe Meaſures that Juſtice, Honour, and the publick Intereſt direct.

Plymouth-Dock, Feb. 20. Since my laſt the Charming Betty Privateer of Jerſey, Captain Nicholas Fiott, fell in with a Fleet of French Coaſters, conſiſting of about 60 Sail, out of which ſhe has taken two, and brought them to this Port. They are loaded with 180 Tons of Wine. Theſe Prizes arrive in a good Time, as there is no Prize Wine in Port for the Navy; the Benefit of which, in procuring Health to our Seamen, is well known to all Commanders.

Portſmouth, Feb. 23. Wedneſday an Expreſs arrived with an Order for all the Ships in the Harbour to be got ready with the utmoſt Expedition for Sea, and five Frigates have ſince been docked.

LONDON, February 22.

M. Vereſt, Envoy Extraordinary from the States-General to the Court of Berlin, having wrote to the King of Pruſſia, to notify to him the Death of the Princeſs Gouvernante, that Miniſter received from His Pruſſian Majeſty the following Anſwer, dated from Breſlau the 31ſt ult.

Sir, the Notification which you have been pleaſed to give me of the Death of Madame the late Princeſs Gouvernante, by your Letter of the 27th of this Month, in the Name of the States General, your Maſters, has renewed all the Grief which ſeized me on the firſt News that I received of that unhappy and melancholy Event. Scarce am I, at this Hour, recovered from the Shock it gave me. I have loſt a Friend, who, by her Greatneſs of Soul, her Wiſdom and her Fortitude, far above her Sex, merited all my Regard, and whom I ſhall ever have in Remembrance. The Aſſurances which your Maſters have charged you to make me on this Occaſion, contribute, indeed, to conſole me: I know their Value; and you will do me the Favour to intimate to them on my Part, the Concern I am under on Account of the Loſs they have ſuſtained, and which is certainly very great for us all. I ſhall always make a due Return for their good Sentiments towards me. In the mean Time, be aſſured of my perfect Eſteem; whereupon I pray God to keep you, Monſ. de Vereliſt, in his holy Protection.

Signed, FREDERICK.

Letters from Copenhagen of the 5th Inſtant, contradict the Reports that the King of Denmark had ordered ſome Engliſh Ships to be ſtopt; neither was there a Foundation for any Miſunderſtanding between Denmark and Great-Britain. They add, that three Men of War of 70 Guns, four of 60, five of 50, two of 40, two of 30, and two of 24, are ordered to be fitted out, and manned with all Expedition, but on no other Account than to protect the Commerce and Navigation of the Daniſh Subjects.

By ſome Letters from Hanover we have an Account, that, in Conſideration of the gallant Behaviour of the Hunters, his Britannick Majeſty has given Orders for offering all young Men, that are willing to ſerve in that Capacity, an extraordinary Encouragement, and Promotion to divers Places of Truſt and Profit in the Electorate of Hanover, according to their Merit, which gracious Offer had cauſed Numbers to inliſt. They further ſay, that the Number of French Priſoners of War being ſuperior to that of the Hanoverians, a proper Ranſom will be taken for the Remainder.

By private Letters, which came by the Liſbon Mail on Tueſday laſt, we are informed, the ſeveral Convents in that City were well guarded, and that the Eſtates of ſeveral of the Jeſuits have been confiſcated; but no farther Diſcoveries, nor have any more of thoſe already apprehended been as yet executed.

On Tueſday Sir Charles Hardy kiſſed his Majeſty's Hand at St. James's, on being appointed Vice Admiral of the White Squadron.

We hear Orders are given to the ſeveral Regiments deſtined to go on a ſecret Expedition, to be in readineſs to embark the 14th of next Month.

We learn from Rome, that the General of the Order of Jeſuits has applied to the Pope, to prevent, by his Interpoſition with the Princes and States of the Romiſh Communion, the Deſign that is now upon the Carpet, of treating their Order in the ſame Manner as the Knights Templars were. His Holineſs anſwered, That they muſt wait the Deciſion of the Law in Portugal, where he ſhould be very ſorry to find they had been guilty, in any Degree, of thoſe deteſtable Crimes with which they are charged; and that they may depend upon his Protection, if they are able to vindicate their own Innocence.

According to all outward Appearance, the Ruſſians have a Deſign of either ſurpriſing or reducing Dantzick by a Siege, to prevent which, and in order to ſecure their Liberties, the Citizens are daily training to Arms, under the Direction of 38 Pruſſian Officers, who have been a long Time in their Service, and in whoſe Skill, Integrity, and Experience, they place the higheſt Confidence.

By a Letter from Liſbon we are informed, that Numbers of Jeſuits have withdrawn themſelves from the Kingdom of Portugal ſince the late Execution there, and that ſo precipitately, as to leave behind them their valuable Effects.

The ſaid Letter-writer affirms, that there are upwards of 32 Perſons of that Order under Confinement, for the late Aſſaſſination Plot, which had ſtruck ſo great a Panic thro' their whole Body, that a Law for the Baniſhment of them would ſoon become unneceſſary.

Feb. 24. Sixty Sail of Tranſports are ordered to be directly taken into his Majeſty's Service, for a Secret Expedition.

Moſt of the publick News-Papers having mentioned very ſuperficially the Convention ſigned at London the 7th of December laſt, between the King of Great-Britain and the King of Pruſſia, we hope the Articles of it will not be unacceptable to the Publick. They are as follow:

Article 1. All former Treaties concluded between the two Courts, and particularly that of the 16th of January 1756, and the Convention of the 11th of April 1758, are fully and literally confirmed by the preſent Convention.

2. The King of Great-Britain ſhall pay at London, into Hands of Perſons authoriſed by the King of Pruſſia for that Purpoſe, the Sum of 4,000,000 of Crowns, amounting to 670,000 l. Sterling which, at the Requeſt of his Pruſſian Majeſty, ſhall be paid at one ſingle Payment, immediately after the Exchange of the Ratifications.

3. His Pruſſian Majeſty engages to employ the ſaid Sum in recruiting and augmenting his Armies, which ſhall act in ſuch a Manner, as ſhall be judged moſt conducive to the Intereſt of the Common Cauſe.

4. The King of Great Britain, both as King, and as Elector, and his Pruſſian Majeſty, reciprocally engage themſelves by the preſent Convention, not to make any Treaty of Peace, Suſpenſion of Arms, or any other Agreement with any of the Powers at War, without the mutual Conſent of both Parties, nor without their being both expreſly comprehended in ſuch Treaty.

5. The Ratification of this preſent Convention ſhall be exchanged within the Term of ſix Weeks or ſooner, if it can be done, &c.

We hear that Admiral Boſcawen is to ſet out ſoon on an Expedition, and that Commodore Edgecumbe will go out Commanding Officer under him.

We hear that the Forfeitures to the Crown on Account of the late Conſpiracy in Portugal, amount to one Third of the Eſtates of the whole Kingdom.

The laſt Letters from Rome ſay, that Don Almaigo de Mallo, the Portugueſe Miniſter, had repreſented to his Holineſs, that 16,000 Stand of Arms had been found in ſome of the Jeſuits Convents, which Fact was confirmed by the Letters of the Nuntio Acciaiuoly, which has made ſuch an Impreſſion, that it is thought Cardinal Francis Albani will decline the Poſt that he at preſent holds of their Protector. In a Word, their Affairs have as dark an Aſpect as can be.

Feb. 27. By a Letter from Caſſel of the 8th Inſtant, there is an Account that the Allied Army was in Motion, that 2000 Engliſh Horſe, and 3000 Heſſian Foot, were advanced to Allendorff, on the Weſer, and all the Allied Forces that were cantoned in the Biſhoprick of Paderborn, had received Orders to join the Troops under the Command of Prince Iſenbourg. It is ſaid the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick will have the chief Command of that Army.

We hear that there are no leſs than One Hundred and Thirteen Britiſh Ships of the Line at this Time actually employed.

Some Perſons are under Arreſt, for their Behaviour at St. Cas.

The Fleets in North-America, under the Command of the Admirals Saunders, Holmes, and Durell, will conſiſt, when united, of 25 Ships of the Line, beſides Frigates, &c. and the Eaſt-India Fleet, now going out, conſiſts of 4 Ships of the Line.

Admiralty-Office, February 22.

Captain Parker, of His Majeſty's Ship the Montague, gives an Account in his Letter of the 18th Inſtant, that on the 31ſt paſt, the ſaid Ship, and Deptford, chaſed a French Privateer, which the Montague took the next Day. She is called the Marquis de Marigny, belonging to Granville, mounts 20 ſix Pounders, and had 194 Men on board, and was commanded by M. Le Crouſe.

Captain Parker alſo took on the 15th Inſtant, a Cutter Privateer of Dukirk, called Le Hardi Mendiant, commanded by Jean Meuleuaer, of 8 ſix Pounders, and 60 Men.

Captain Graves, Commander of His Majeſty's Ship the Unicorn, has alſo taken on the 14th Inſtant, the Moras Privateer of St. Malo, carrying 22 Guns, and 202 Men.

Captain Lendrick, Commander of His Majeſty's Ship the Brilliant, likewiſe gives an Account of his taking on the 30th paſt, two French Merchant Ships of upwards of 300 Tons Burthen each, freighted and loaded with Proviſions on the French King's Account, for Martinico, having alſo on board ſome Cloathing, and 500 Stand of Arms for the Soldiery.

Goſport, Feb. 28. Yeſterday arrived at Spithead, from Goree, but laſt from Senegal, His Majeſty's Ship Naſſau, Captain Sayer; ſhe was five Weeks on her Paſſage; ſhe left His Majeſty's Ships Torbay, Dunkirk, Fogeux, Prince Edward, &c. off the Weſtern Iſlands, bound to England. She has brought home ſome Cheſts of Dollars, Cheſts of Gold Duſt, and Bags of Money. She lay at Senegal eight Days, and gives out that our Garriſon is happily ſettled there, and that there is great Tranquility among them and the Natives of the country.

Portſmouth, Feb. 28. The following Ships are going out, under the Command of Admiral Boſcawen, viz. Namure, Newark, Conqueror, Achilles, and America.

Plymouth, Feb. 25. We hear that the Hon. John Byron, Commander of His Majeſty's Ship America, is appointed to the Command of a new 74 Gun Ship; and that the Captain of the Lynn ſucceeds him in the Command of the America.

LONDON.

March 1. We hear that Major General Moſtyn is to act in Germany as Major General, in the Room of the Marquis of Granby, who is to command as Lieutenant General.

Extract of a Letter from Portſmouth, February 28.

"We are here in a very great Hurry to prepare a Squadron of Men of War for the Mediterranean, to be commanded by Admiral Boſcawen; the Orders are very preſſing to get them ready in leſs than a Month. This Morning the Admiral's Ship, the Namure, will be docked. The Squadron for the Eaſt-Indies is fit for Sea."

According to Letters from Hamburgh, the Ferment daily increaſes at Stockholm, eſpecially ſince the News arrived of the repeated ill Succeſs of their Arms in Pomerania. The Court Party repreſent, that it is impoſſible to ſupport any longer, a War, carried on againſt the Inclinations of the People; and that it is highly expedient to accommodate Matters with the King of Pruſſia; for if he ſhould get Stralſund into his Poſſeſſion, Sweden muſt expect never to recover it.

A Letter of good Credit from Liſbon mentions, that the Duke d'Aveiro declared to the laſt Moment, that he was drawn into the Conſpiracy againſt the King, by the three diſcarded Jeſuit Confeſſors to the Royal Family; that in order to confirm him in this horrible deſign, they induced him to make three Retreats, during which they ceaſed not to repreſent the Attempt againſt the King an heroic Action, by which he would merit Heaven.

By ſome Letters from Caſſel there is an Account, that the French continue ſtill their Devaſtations and Exactions in the County of Hanau. Great Complaint hath been made to the Prince (Princeſs Mary of England's eldeſt Son) now at the Court of Denmark; and it is ſaid his Highneſs has requeſted the King of Denmark to intercede with the French King for a ſpeedy Redreſs of thoſe Grievances.

We hear that Prince Ferdinand's Army is ordered to aſſemble directly, an Expreſs having been diſpatched from hence for that Purpoſe, and the Engliſh Reinforcements are ordered to embark immediately.

We hear from Holland, that the Province of Utrecht has at laſt conſented to the equipping of the 25 Men of War, ſo often mentioned.

By private Letters from St. Maloes we hear, that the Adventurers in Privateers of that Place, are determined not to be concerned, their Loſſes having apparently lowered the great Expectations they harboured at the Commencement of the Year 1758, at which Time they had no leſs than 12 building at once.

We hear that the Intereſt on the 6,000,000 l. three per Cent. Annuities, ſubſcribed for the preſent Year, will commence from the 5th of January laſt.

According to the laſt Letters from Peterſbourg, it depends upon the Reports which ſhall be made by the Generals Fermor and Brown, in what Manner the Operations of War are to be carried on during the next Campaign, ſo that the Ends propoſed by the High Allies may be better anſwered than they were the laſt. It is ſaid that a Conſpiracy for a general Inſurrection in Poland has been diſcovered, as alſo a Project for defeating the late Election of a Duke of Courland; with Reſpect to both which, the Publick will receive ample Satisfaction in due Time.

It is ſaid that a foreign Miniſter, at an Italian Court, is in Danger of being diſgraced at Home, for not giving timely Intelligence of its Diſpoſitions, and of a Treaty that was a long Time negoci ting, and at length actually ſigned, before he had any Notice of it; tho' he may plead in his Excuſe, that the Court have been extremely upon their Guard againſt him, ever ſince the famous Propoſition he made, of admitting Garriſons as a Security for a certain eventual Succeſſion.

The Court-Martial now ſitting, to determine the conteſted Merit between two Officers, in the late Engagement at St. Cas, upon the French Coaſt, is expected to end this Week, as moſt of the Witneſſes on both Sides have been examined, even private Centinels and Drummers.

A large Draught from the third Regiment of Foot-Guards, it is ſaid, will be ſhortly made, and are to be encamped on the Iſle of Wight, till the Fleet going out on an Expedition is ready for ſailing.

BOSTON, April 23.

A Letter from a Gentleman in London mentions, That in Holland there was much Confuſion ſince the Death of her Royal Highneſs the Princeſs Governante, and that it was apprehended the People would riſe againſt the States; and that a War with Holland was talked of.

Laſt Week His Excellency our Governor embarked 231 Seamen for His Majeſty's Fleet, which he raiſed from the Militia of the Sea-port Towns, at a Bounty of Four Pounds Ten Shillings Sterling to ſome, and Six Pounds Sterling to others, with a Blanket and all other Neceſſaries, over and above the King's Royal Bounty of Forty Shillings Sterling; and we hear there are more raiſing. They are to ſerve only for this Year's Service, and are to return to Boſton.-----And as ſome ſuſpicious People were apt to ſuggeſt, that Admiral Saunders might think himſelf at Liberty to depart from the Terms upon which the Men engaged in the Service, we have now the Pleaſure (by his Excellency the Governor's Leave) to inform the Public, that he received a Letter from Admiral Saunders, dated at Sea, wherein propoſing to the Governor Terms of the ſame Nature as thoſe already gone into by the Governor, in inliſting Men for the Sea Service, he ſays, "any ſuch Conditions ſhall be complied with."

On Saturday laſt two Detachments of our Province Troops, the one under Col. Frye, for Fort Cumberland, the other under Capt. Gay for Piſquid, embarked from Caſtle-Iſland for their ſeveral Deſtinations; and we hear his Excellency has ordered Capt. Hallowell, in the King George, to eſcort them to the Bay. The detachments for Annapolis, St. John's, Halifax, Lunenbourg and Louiſbourg, we likewiſe hear are all preparing to embark.

By Capt. Hoſkel, in 21 days from Fyal, we have advice that a bomb ſhip which had received ſome damage in a hard gale of Wind (being parted from the fleet) had put in there to refit; that, when ſhe came from England, there ſailed 26 men of war, with a great number of tranſports, in all above 150 veſſels, in three diviſions, one with 11 men of war, one with 8, and the other with 6.

Laſt night Capt. Glover arrived here in 5 days from Halifax; he informs, that Commodore Durell's Squadron, conſiſting of 8 ſhips of the Line, that wintered there, were all in readineſs to join Admiral Saunders.

Province of the Maſſachuſetts Bay, April 23.

Admiral Saunders having, by a Letter dated the 10th of March (off the Weſtern Iſlands, on his Paſſage to Louiſbourg) informed his Excellency the Governor, that he ſhould proceed early up the River * where the Fleet and Army would ſtand in Need of frequent Supplies and Refreſhments,-----deſires that his Excellency would make it known to the People of the Province, that ſuch of them as are willing to carry any ſuch Supplies, ſhall not on any account have their Men taken from them, or detained. And that for their Encouragement, ſome Ships will be always cruizing at the Mouth of the River, from whom they will receive all the Protection and Intelligence that may be needful.

His Excellency has therefore thought fit publickly to make known theſe Encouragements; and doth further recommend it to all Maſters of Veſſels, and others concerned in ſhipping Proviſions, to turn the Courſe of their Trade to the ſupplying this ſo eſſential a Service.

The Admiral, in his Letter, further adds, "In caſe "any naval Aſſiſtance ſhall be wanted for the Protection "of your Government, on your applying to me, I will "ſend you ſuch as I may be able to do, conſiſtent with "the Service with which I am charged by his Majeſty's "Inſtructions."

NEWPORT, April 24.

This Day are to embark for Albany, Part of the Troops raiſed in this Colony for the enſuing Campaign, which will be ſoon followed by the Number voted by this Government.---The Legiſlature has certainly given a Proof of its Wiſdom and Penetration, in retaining theſe Troops in Pay during the Winter. An Expence to the Colony has thereby been ſaved, and the Service greatly benefited; for by Calculation, it will appear, that the Bounty for Inliſtment, with other recruiting Charges, will amount to as much as the Wages and Billeting during the Winter; and it is equally obvious, the Men from their Experience and Duty the laſt Summer, will be more capable for Action this. If it be further conſidered, that we have, by the prudent Meaſures of the Government, been releaſed from the Terrors of Draughts and Impreſſes this Spring, we cannot but think ourſelves extremely happy, and the more ſo, when we reflect on the vaſt Difficulties our neighbouring Colonies have experienced, by not adopting the ſame Form of Proceeding with us: Beſides, their Levies muſt be a great Meaſure be undiſciplined and immature in military Exerciſes and Fatigue.

NEW-YORK, April 30.

Extract of a Letter from Albany.

"Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON has had a Meeting at Conojohary, with between 5 and 600 Indians, amongſt whom were Deputies from four other Nations beſides thoſe of the Six Nations. They have all declared their Sentiments and Intentions of joining with the Engliſh againſt the French, appear to be ſincerely diſpoſed to aſſiſt us in the approaching Campaign; and are very earneſt that we ſhould go againſt Niagara: And it is confidently ſaid here, that in ſuch Caſe Sir WILLIAM would be able to muſter and march with near 1000 Indians. They brought down and delivered at this Meeting, ſeveral Engliſh Priſoners; and have promiſed to deliver the reſt they have amongſt them, to the Governor of Pennſylvania. We hear alſo, that a conſiderable Body of the moſt remote Seneca Indians are coming down to Sir WILLIAM's Houſe from the Meeting, in order to go out againſt the Enemy immediately."

Wedneſday Captain Brown arrived in 23 Days from Monto-Chriſto: Eight Days before he came out, a Ship from Philadelphia, bound for the Mount, was caſt away on the Plate-Wreck; the Veſſel was entirely loſt, but the Crew got ſafe to Monto-Chriſto in their Long-Boat.

The Day Captain Brown ſailed, he ſaw three Engliſh Men of War beating to Windward; and imagined they were bound to Guadaloupe, from Jamaica, in order to join the Squadron under the Command of Commodore Moore.

The Spaniards at that Place gave out, that there were two Privateers at Port Dauphin, and one at the Cape, which were deſigned and ready to ſail on a Cruize off this and the neighbouring Ports.

Tueſday laſt Capt. Cort arrived here from Anguilla, in 24 Days. A few Days before he ſailed, one Capt. Richards came into that Iſland from the Margaretes, on the Spaniſh Main, and gave Information, That the Spaniards were very buſy in raiſing and ſending of Men to the Aſſiſtance of the French at Martinico; and that 1500 of them were actually ſailed for that Purpoſe.

They were every Day, in the Weſt-Indies, looking for the Return of Capt. Tyrrel (who was ſent Home to ſolicit Reinforcements as ſoon as our Troops landed on Guadaloupe) from England.

Friday laſt arrived here the Crown Tranſport, Maxfield, Maſter, one other of Commodore Holmes's Fleet, which ſhe left the 20th Inſtant, April, in Lat.

A Choice Parcel of MADEIRA WINE, in Pipes, Hogſheads and Quarter-Caſks, to be ſold by JOHN RELFE.

50. it then consisting of 52 Sail, so that they may be hourly expected.

Capt. Maxfield acquaints us, That on the 25th Instant, he spoke to a Sloop bound to Nantucket, from St. Kitts, out then 11 Days, the Master of which told him, that the Inhabitants of Guadaloupe had, at last, surrendered to His Britannick Majesty's Forces.

Saturday last, about 3 o'Clock in the Afternoon, His Excellency General AMHERST set out for Albany, and on his going off was saluted with the Cannon on Fort George. His Excellency dined with his Honour our Lieutenant Governor, at his Seat in the Bowery, and in the Evening took Water at Greenwich.

Colonel Frazer's Regiment of Highlanders, which lately came down from Fort Stanwix, on the Wood Creek, on Friday last were embarked on board the Transports lying in the North River, to proceed to Halifax.

Since our last Lord William Blakeney's Regiment came to Town from Burlington, in New-Jersey, where they kept their Winter Quarters; and are gone forward to Albany.

This Day sails for Halifax, His Majesty's Ships the Nightingale and Lizard, taking under their Convoy the following Transport Ships, having Col. Frazer's Highlanders, &c. on board, viz. the James and Henrietta, Mache; the Jane, Garnes; the Eden and Mary, Langdon; the Three Sisters, Miller; the Lyon, Smith; the Two Brothers, Stockton; the Prince of Wales, Potts; the Hopewell, Masterman; the Fortunate Industry, Sarf; the Crown, Maxfield; and two New-York Transports.

Our Advices by the Vessel arrived from Halifax, besides those mentioned under the Boston Head, are, That the Northumberland Man of War, one of Holmes's Squadron, bound to this Part of the World, and which put back after they met with the Storm the 25th of February last, is safe arrived at Plymouth :---That Admiral Boscawen was sail'd with a large Fleet into the Mediterranean; and that Commodore Lord Howe was also gone out on another Expedition.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.

Captain Rankin informs us, that on his Passage he spoke with His Majesty's Frigate Coventry, which, in Company with the Thames Frigate, one of 30, the other of 28 Guns, fell in with two French Men of War, of 50 and 40 Guns, whom they engaged smartly for a considerable Time, and at last drove them into Ushant.

The Sloop Good Intent, Captain Shewbart, of this Port, bound to Providence, in Lat. 33 overset, when the Mate and Supercargo were drowned; the Captain and two Men remained on the Wreck six Days, and were providentially taken up by a Vessel from Lisbon bound to Maryland, being so far spent, as to be unable to help themselves.

Captain Jenkins is arrived at Barbados from Virginia. In his Passage, off of Deseada, he met with a French Privateer, with whom he exchanged one Broadside, when the Frenchman sheered off.

Captain Parker, in the Sloop Polly, bound to Virginia from Antigua, was taken, and carried into St. Eustatia.

By Captain Elliot, from Halifax, there is Advice, that a Frigate had arrived there in 25 Days Passage from England; and that the News by her was, That a large Fleet was going up the Mediterranean, and another to the Baltic; that there was a Talk of a Dutch War; and that it was thought Spain would declare for England.

Captain Elliot further informs, that a Transport, belonging to Admiral Saunders's Fleet, was come in, but parted with the Admiral a considerable Time before her Arrival, off the Great Bank.

Captain Glover, from Boston, on Wednesday last, 15 Leagues to the Eastward of Cape May, saw about 50 Sail of Vessels, some of them very large, supposed to be Admiral Holmes's Fleet.

Extract of a Letter from Fort-Ligonier, April 17, 1759.

"It is a Thousand to One but this Letter is intercepted by the Enemy, as the Road is Way-laid from Pittsburgh to Bedford. Lieutenant Campbell, with 25 Men, and 20 Bullocks, was attacked about 15 Miles from Pittsburgh, when he lost ten of his Men; but he prudently retreated to a Breastwork, which we had made on our former March, and which the Enemy, after reconnoitering, did not think proper to attempt. He sent off, in the Night, an Express to Colonel Mercer, who ordered Captain Clayton, with 50 Men, to reinforce the Guard, by which the Remainder of the Party, and the Bullocks, got safe up."

Extract of a Letter from New-York, dated April 30, wrote by a Gentleman just arrived there, in six Weeks from Lisbon.

"The Trident Man of War, bound to North-America, put into Lisbon four Days before we sailed; she had lost her Mainmast. Three Transports came in with her, one of which was quite dismasted, and the other two in almost as bad a Condition. Three of the Transports were taken, one of which was carried into Vigo. We had several Reports that the King of Spain was dead; but the last Accounts were, that he was recovered."

Last Night Captain Whitmarsh came up in ten Days Passage from Halifax, and informs, that he saw several of Admiral Saunders's Fleet off of that Port.

Extract of a Letter from Pittsburgh, dated April 2.

"The 25th of March Col. Mercer, with 200 Men, marched from this Place for Venango, in order to remove the French from that Post. At the same Time he sent Captain Clayton, with 50 Men, in ten Battoes, with Provisions and other Stores, to proceed up the River, and join him at Venango. The 26th it rained excessively, and raised the Waters so much, that Captain Clayton was only 20 Miles up the River the 28th, about 10 in the Morning, when he was fired on from the Banks of the River, and all the Men, in one of the Battoes, were killed or wounded; the others pushed to an Island, where they landed, and heard Hooping and Firing of Guns on both Sides of the River; this, with the Heighth of the Waters, obliged them to return, and left one Battoe, with 5 Men. The 30th the Battoe came floating down the River, with 5 Men in it, all scalped, one of them was alive when we took up the Battoe, and lived some Hours. An Express was sent after the Colonel to inform him of Captain Clayton's Disaster. The Express overtook him 45 Miles from this Place, where he was stopped by the Waters being so high, and was obliged to return to this Place.---The Day before Col. Mercer marched eight or ten Indians came here, who said they came to see if the English were angry. The Colonel told them, we were not angry at them, and gave them some Presents, but they seemed displeased, and went spying and looking at every Thing about this Place until the 26th in the Evening; they then wanted to go away, and the Commanding Officer ordered two Men to carry them over the Ohio; but the Indians seized the two Men, and tied them, put them in the Boat, and carried them down the River to a Delaware Town, at the Mouth of Beaver Creek, where they parted, one Party going down the River, the other, with one of the white Men, went by Kuskusky, where the Delawares stopt them, and, after a long Council, the Delawares took the White Man from them, and sent him to this Place, with one Indian, by way of Escort. They told the Indians, that had taken these Men, that they had made Peace with the English, and would not suffer them nor the French to carry any English Prisoners thro' their Towns."

JOHN STANWIX.

Monday laſt arrived here the Hannah, Captain Donnell, from Antigua, by whom we have the following Advices, viz.

St. JOHN's, in ANTIGUA, March 24.

ON Wedneſday laſt Capt. M'Pherſon, of the privateer ſhip Britannia, arrived from a cruize, in which he has met with no material ſucceſs.---From a ſmall veſſel which Capt. M'Pherſon took near St. Vincents, he got intelligence of 3 or 4 Ships which were lying in a bay in that Iſland; and immediately reſolved to attempt to bring them away. On his Arrival there, he found the enemy had a battery of two guns, which he ſoon diſmounted; but their ſmall arms were fired with ſo much advantage into his boats from an eminence on ſhore, where they were aſſembled in great numbers, that he judged it beſt not to riſque the loſs of ſo many men, as the taking of the ſhips would probably have coſt him.---It is ſaid Capt. M'Pherſon could plainly diſtinguiſh amongſt the enemy on ſhore, a perſon who now is, or lately was, a reſident of Barbados; we doubt not but a proper enquiry will be made into this Matter; and that this Man will, firſt or laſt, meet with that puniſhment which traitors to their Country, the worſt of mankind, ſo juſtly deſerve.

A few Days before Capt. M'Pherſon arrived here, he ſaw Monſ. Bompar's ſquadron riding at an anchor in Fort Royal Bay in Martinico, about cannon ſhot diſtance from the Fort.

Yeſterday Morning Capt. Marchant's Company of Volunteer whitemen, and near 300 Volunteer Negroes, ſailed from hence for Point Petre, under convoy of the Sturdy Beggar privateer, of 24 guns, Capt. Robert Troup commander.

Yeſterday His Majeſty's Ship Ludlow Caſtle arrived here from Dominico, from whence ſhe ſailed on Tueſday, having left commodore Moore in Prince Rupert's bay, with 11 Ships of the line; and it may be preſumed the Rippon, of 60 guns, would join him on Thurſday.

ARRIVED.

The ſchooner Diamond, Will. Wyat, from Philadelphia. ſloop Succeſs, Jabez Stow, from New-London. Ship Sarah and Suſanna, Will. Skinner, from Cape-Fear. Schooner Prince George, Will. Coles, from Salem. Brig-----Scroggen, from Virginia. Sloop Induſtry, Richard Robinſon, from Ditto. Ship Bradſtreet, Iſaac Warden, from New-York, at the Old Road.

March 26. This was made ready for the preſs on Saturday, but the alarm which was fired on account of the appearance of about 50 ſail of ſhips (part of the London Fleet) prevented its publication.---Theſe Ships being ſeparated from the body of the fleet, as formerly mentioned in this paper, ſtood for Fyall; but could not come to anchor there on account of the contrary winds; they therefore proceeded to Barbados; and it is extremely probable, were, during the greateſt part of the voyage, very near Monſ. Bompar's ſquadron; who, it is believed, cruiſed ſome time off Cape Finiſterre, in order to intercept the whole fleet. Capt. Coulter, for this place, was ſeparated from this part of the fleet off the Weſtern Iſlands, and it is feared may have fallen into the enemy's Hands; the reſt of thoſe ſhips are all ſafely arrived under convoy of the Emerald frigate, of 28 guns, who parted from them only in ſight of this Iſland in chaſe of two French privateers. The remainder of the fleet may be expected very ſhortly, under convoy of the Hampſhire man of war of 50 guns, and the Kinſale Hulk for Engliſh harbour, and we are in no pain for any diſturbance Monſ. Bompar may be inclined to give them.

A veſſel is arrived which left Point Petre on Saturday laſt, at which Time commodore Moore's ſquadron (being 12 ſhips of the line) had compleated their wood and water at Dominico; and, it was ſuppoſed, would ſail in a day or two.---Col. Crump had marched up into the country with a detachment of about 800 men, but it was not known with what deſign.

March 31. On Monday laſt the letter of marque ſhip Parham, capt. Iſrael Alleyn, arrived here from Briſtol, but laſt from the Madeiras, having taken and carried in there a French ſnow, laden with ſugar, homeward bound from St. Domingo.

The ſame day alſo arrived here from a cruize the letter of marque ſhip Charles, belonging to Briſtol, of twenty two guns, and 120 men, Robert Patten, commander. She came to an anchor towards the evening ſomewhat too near the bar, and the wind veering to the weſtward ſhortly afterwards, the ſhip ſwung towards the bar, and her ſtern touched the bottom.---Means were then uſed to get her towed off, but in vain; in the mean time the ſwell cauſed her to drift, and ſhe preſently afterwards run aſhore in Hog John Bay, where ſhe has filled with water, and is loſt, but all her guns, ſtores, and rigging, will be ſaved. Captain Patten in his cruize had ſeized two Dutch ſhips, and ſent them to England.

Laſt Thurſday evening Capt. Gallaway arrived from Baſſeterre in Guadaloupe, from whence he ſailed the day before, and brings an account of the following melancholy affair, viz. That a ſmall temporary magazine, which had been erected in the upper part of the fort, had by ſome accident taken fire and blown up, by which means Col. Deſbreſay, governor of the fort, and 4 or 5 others were killed. This ſad accident is the more to be lamented, as Col. Deſbreſay was univerſally allowed to be an excellent officer. A new governor had been appointed, and was arrived before Capt. Gallaway ſailed. The enemy have got one mortar, and have thrown ſeveral ſhells into the fort, but they had done no conſiderable damage.

We can with pretty great certainty aſſure the public, that there is no truth in the reports we have had of Monſ. Bombar's being reinforced.

It is ſaid Major Melvill is appointed governor of the fort, and Lieutenant Colonel.

April 4. We have advice from St. Euſtatia, which may be relied on, that the very evening His Majeſty's ſhip Briſtol left her ſtation off that iſland, ten ſail of veſſels went from thence deeply laden with proviſions for the French iſlands, as ſeveral others have alſo done ſince. And that ſugar loaded ſloops, &c. continue to arrive at St. Euſtatia almoſt every night, notwithſtanding the vigilance of the commander of His Majeſty's ſhip Ludlow Caſtle, who has been conſtantly cruiſing off that iſland.

Extract of a Letter from Point Petre, in Grandterre, wrote about ſix Days ago.

"We at preſent have a proſpect of a fruitful harveſt of laurels. The laſt of the tranſports were 20 days in getting from Baſſeterre to this place, which cauſed the troops that were here to remain inactive; but the whole having joined on the 26th, two expeditions were planned, in which we burnt and deſtroyed the towns of St. Ann and St. Francois, with all the country round, and Mr. Nadeau's fine plantation amongſt the reſt: Our loſs was only Capt. Gunning, of Elliot's regiment, and three privates.

By the maſter of a veſſel, who arrived yeſterday from Guadaloupe, we learn that the two expeditions above mentioned, were one of them commanded by Col. Crump, and the other by Col. Barlow; that they landed about 6 miles to the Southward of St. Ann's, on Wedneſday laſt, and marched from thence with great expedition to their reſpective Scenes of Action, viz. Col. Crump to St. Ann's, and Col. Barlow to St. Francois, when they performed the Services they went upon with equal expedition and addreſs; that they afterwards reimbarked with leiſure; bringing with them upwards of 20 head of cattle to Point Petre.

The Sturdy Beggar, capt. Troup, attended the troops in this Expedition, and brought off a great Quantity of Sugar.

That on the day following, another attack was made with ſucceſs, at a place called Goche, near Point St. Petre, where the enemy had ſome cannon, which would have annoyed our camp: That in this attack, a detachment from the volunteers which went from Antigua were employed, and acquired great honour by their brave and gallant behaviour: Capt. Shaw was ſlightly wounded in the leg.

That at Baſſeterre the enemy have got ſome cannon (beſides the mortar) mounted at two different places, with which they deſigned to batter the fort; particularly two 18 pounders were placed advantageouſly: Major Melvill (who is governor of the fort) therefore made a ſally on Saturday laſt, drove the enemy from this poſt, and deſtroyed their guns.

April 7. Refreſhments, to the amount of Twelve Hundred Pounds, have been already ſent to Baſſeterre, in Guadaloupe, and Grandterre, for the ſick and wounded.

On Tueſday laſt the ſhip Elizabeth and Mary, of 12 guns, and 18 men, Capt. James Read commander, arrived here from New-York; having the evening before fallen in with a French privateer of 12 guns, about 10 leagues to windward of this iſland, and engaged her for two hours; after which both ſides lay to to refit till five in the morning, when the engagement was renewed with redoubled fury, and continued till ten.---During the greateſt part of this time the two veſſels were within piſtol ſhot of each other, and frequently cloſe aboard, the enemy having ſeveral times attempted to throw ſtink pots into Capt. Read's ſhip, and frequently called out to him, promiſing to treat him well if he would ſtrike; but theſe favourable offers were anſwered only by Capt. Read's guns, which killed ſo many of his cowardly enemies, that what remained of them thought fit to get away as faſt as they could.---The Elizabeth and Mary had one top-maſt ſhot away, ſeveral of her yards cut down, and almoſt all her running rigging cut, but had only one man ſlightly wounded.

A large pettiaugre, bound from Martinico to Guadaloupe, with ſwivel guns and ammunition on board, has been cut out of a bay in the Saints by his majeſty's ſloop Antigua. And a French ſnow, of 6 guns, and 25 men, laden with ſugar from Martinico, has been taken, and carried to Montſerrat, by a ſmall pettiaugre privateer, belonging to that place; who alſo chaſed a ſhip which was in company with the ſnow, but ſhe eſcaped by getting in land.

We hear, from Guadaloupe, that Monſ. Bompar was ſeen on Monday laſt in Fort-royal bay, with nine ſhips of the line, and two frigates.---And Capt. White, from point St. Petre, ſays, that three attacks were to be made there on the 2d or 3d inſtant; and if they ſucceeded, it was thought the enemy would be obliged to abandon all Grandterre.

We hear from St. Chriſtophers, that about 300 volunteers, blacks and whites, ſailed from thence laſt Tueſday for Guadaloupe.

April 11. Two veſſels arrived here yeſterday, which left Guadaloupe on Saturday laſt, and by them we learn, that ſome of the Antigua volunteers had a ſkirmiſh with the enemy on Friday laſt, near Point St. Petre, in which we loſt 4 or 5 Negroes; and that upon this occaſion (as well as before) the good behaviour of the volunteers was univerſally acknowledged.---The Volunteers from St. Kitts are arrived at Point St. Petre. That a detachment, commanded by General Armiger, went in the flat bottomed boats, with a deſign to land on the South Eaſt coaſt of Guadaloupe; but the wind happened to blow ſo hard that evening, that they could not get aſhore, and were obliged to return to the army.

That for ſome days paſt the enemy have not thrown any ſhells, or fired any ſhots into the fort at Baſſeterre; owing, as is ſuppoſed, to their want of ammunition, particularly ſhells.

The Fawkener Packet, capt. Jones, arrived here yeſterday, in 7 weeks and 3 days from England. About 20 leagues to the windward of this iſland, ſhe was attacked by a French privateer of 12 guns, and engaged her very ſmartly for 9 glaſſes, after which the privateer ſheered off. Capt. Jones had the misfortune to be wounded in the head in the beginning of the action, by the burſting of one of his own ſwivels, and two or three others were alſo wounded, but not dangerouſly. The packet had all her running and moſt of her ſtanding rigging cut away, one of her maſts wounded, and ſeveral of her ſails ſhot to pieces. The privateer is ſuppoſed to be the ſame that engaged capt. Read ſome days before.

Yeſterday the ſhip Robert and Charles, Chriſtopher Groves commander, arrived here from England, in ſeven weeks and two days, being bound to Jamaica.

The following is extracted from Capt. Groves's Journal.

March 9. Parted with Admiral Saunders and his Fleet, conſiſting of 11 Ships of the Line, two Fire-ſhips, with 20

ſail

Sail of Tranſports, Lat. 37. 54. Long. 15. 25. bound to North-America.

March 14. Spoke and parted with capt. Sparks from Cork to Barbados and Philadelphia, who was very leaky, Lat. 29. 26. Long. 32. 5.

April 14. We hear that two letters have been lately intercepted by Commodore Moore; one from the governor of Guadaloupe to the governor of Martinico, repreſenting, in the ſtrongeſt terms, the diſtreſſes they were in at Guadaloupe from the want of proviſions, from the want of ammunition, from the fatigue they had undergone, and from the inſolence of the Negroes, and after all that they had ſtill no hopes of ſuccours, notwithſtanding the promiſes of France; and the other from the governor of Martinico to the governor of Guadaloupe, informing him, that though Monſ. Bompar was not afraid of the Engliſh, yet he did not deſign to fight them; and withal, gave no aſſurance of ſuccours.

His Majeſty's ſhip Amazon, capt. Norton, is juſt now arrived from Dominico and Guadaloupe; and by her we learn, that a maſked battery was taken a few days ago by our troops at Point St. Petre, which would have been ready to play upon our encampment in 3 or 4 hours, and which was ſo well concealed, that the Engliſh did not know of it before the poſt was attacked: That our forces are now in poſſeſſion of all the cleared part of Grandterre, and it is believed there are no ſtrong parties of the enemy even in the woods.---That 1500 men were ordered to march over the South Weſt part of Guadaloupe, by the French Governor's houſe (the lately ſo much famed Dos D'Aſne) to join Col. Melvill at Baſſeterre.---And, that we may ſhortly expect to ſee a grand Feu de joye at Guadaloupe.

Commodore Moore and Monſ. Bompar ſtill remain in their old poſition; tho' there is reaſon to think the latter would be moſt heartily glad to get away uninterrupted.

Baſſeterre (in St. Chriſtophers) March 28.

Sunday laſt his Excellency Brigadier General Haldane embarked at Baſſeterre for his Government of Jamaica.

BOSTON, April 30.

Yeſterday Capt. Thompſon arrived here in 7 Days from Chignecto; by him we learn, That the Bodies of 7 of our Men were lately diſcovered there, cut and mangled in a moſt ſhocking Manner; they are ſuppoſed to have belonged to a Party of 10 Men, which went out on a Scout about the Middle of January laſt, and had not been heard of ſince; the other three it is ſuppoſed were carried off by the Enemy.

NEWPORT, May 1.

Yeſterday arrived here Capt. Deane, in eight Days from Halifax, which gives us the Opportunity of informing the Public, and we do it with the greateſt Pleaſure, of the Arrival of Admiral Saunders, with the fineſt Squadron of His Majeſty's Ships that have ever yet appeared in North-America. Capt. Deane has favoured us with a Liſt of the Ships juſt arrived, and of thoſe already at Halifax and Cape-Breton, which follow in Order.

10 Ships of the Line and 4 Frigates, which makes 25 Ships of the Line, and 11 Frigates, &c.

Ten of the above Ships are to cruize between Halifax and the River St. Lawrence; the Sutherland and Porcupine to cruize between Halifax and Boſton, and three Ships of the Line are to be employed in guarding the Coaſt between New-York and Philadelphia; which we make no Doubt, in due Time, will give a good Account of the French 64 Gun Ship and Frigate, which Admiral Coates informed the Merchants of Jamaica, he had certain Advice were ready to ſail, to cruize on the Coaſt of Philadelphia. There arrived ſome Tranſports with the Fleet, but Capt. Deane cannot be poſitive with reſpect to the Number.

Capt. Deane alſo adviſes, that a Sloop was diſpatched from Halifax, about 14 Days ago, for the River St. Lawrence, in order to inſpect into the State of it, and if at her Return, there was no Ice, the Fleet was to proceed immediately up the River.

In Capt. Deane came Paſſenger, the moſt unfortunate Richard Baron, late Commander of the Sloop Dolphin, bound from Teneriff to New-York, who in a hard Gale of Wind, on his Paſſage, loſt his Sails and Rigging; after which, he was 115 Days intirely deſtitute of Proviſions of every Kind, ſubſiſting on nothing but Barnacles and Graſs, which grew on his Veſſel: Reduced to the greateſt Extremity, they were at laſt obliged, tho' with the utmoſt Reluctance, to agree, which they all conſented to, that one ſhould die for the Preſervation of the reſt; accordingly they caſt Lots, and he whoſe unhappy Fate it was to fall a Victim, ſubmitted to be ſhot, and was their Subſiſtance for ſome Time, when it pleaſed God to ſend to their Relief Capt. Bradſhaw, bound from Plymouth to Halifax, who took the Survivors on board his Ship, and carried them into that Port, where they were taken Care of on board the Vanguard.

ALBANY, April 30.

Tueſday laſt, as a Negroe Fellow was riding along the River, about three Miles from hence, on the oppoſite Side, he was fired at by an Indian, who wounded a Horſe the Fellow was leading, in the Neck; but before the Indian could load his Piece the ſecond Time, the Negroe was out of his Reach, got ſafe into Town, and brought both his Horſes with him.

Friday Night an Expreſs arrived here, which occaſions different Conjectures; ſome will have it, that Fort Stanwix is beſieged; others that there has been a Party of French and Indians ſeen near the German Flats; however, let Matters be as they will, the two Companies of Light Infantry belonging to the 44th, and Royal Regiments, marched out of Town on Saturday Morning, in order, as it is ſaid, to ſcour the Woods.

The ſame Morning, two Sloops, with three Companies of the 27th Regiment, arrived here; which, we hear, are to be quartered in Town, and that the other Regiments will encamp as they arrive.

NEW-YORK, May 7.

Friday the Captains Lewis and Foſter, arrived here from Madeira, the former in 46 Days, and the latter in about 50: They both bring an Account, that the Emperor of Morocco had declared War againſt the King of Great-Britain; immediately after he ſeized Part of the Crews of his Majeſty's Ship Litchfield, and a Tranſport (Part of Commodore Keppel's Squadron that were deſtined againſt Goree) that were caſt away on the Coaſt of his Dominions. (Morocco, in Africa, comprehends the Kingdoms of Fez and Morocco, is bounded by the Mediterranean Sea on the N. by the River Fulvia, which divides it from Algiers, on the E. by Bildulgerid on the S. and by the Atlantic Ocean on the W. being about 500 Miles long, and 200 broad. They have no Veſſels of War, only ſome piratical Veſſels, which they croud with Men, and take many Prizes, eſpecially the Sallee Rovers; but as for Merchant Ships, or a foreign Trade, they carry on none in their own Bottoms.

Extract of a Letter from Gibraltar, dated Feb. 15.

"By Letters received here from our Miniſter at the Court of Spain, we learn, That his Spaniſh Majeſty was either dead or dying of a deep Decay. We expect here daily, a large Fleet of Ships from England, in order to join 24 Sail of Capital Ships of Spain; it is ſaid to bring over the King of the two Sicilies to take Poſſeſſion of his Kingdom.

"Commodore Keppel's Squadron we hear is at the Canaries. The Litchfield Ship of War, with a Bomb Tender, and a Tranſport with ſome Troops belonging to his Squadron, were caſt away on the Coaſt of Barbary, near Sallee, on the 20th of November laſt; ſeveral periſhed in attempting to ſave themſelves; one Captain, two Subalterns, beſides two Lieutenants of Men of War, were drowned, with ſeveral more: Captain Barton, who commanded the Litchfield, is ſafe. The Moors uſe our People very ill (that had the good Luck to eſcape being drowned) by having ſtript them, and forced them to work for a Blanquit a Day. The Emperor of Morocco has declared War againſt us; but permits the Ports of Tangier and Tetuan to be open for Trade. This is our preſent ſituation with the Moors. An Ambaſſador is named to go over; and a Conſul General, who is coming from England, in the Room of the late Conſul, who put himſelf to death in this Country.

"Colonel Skinner, Chief Engineer, arrived here a few Days ago, but it is not yet known the Occaſion of his coming here ſo ſuddenly, as we are in great Amity with our Neighbours the Spaniards.

"Admiral Broderick is here with 8 Sail of the Line. The Privateers here, brought into this Port above 30 Sail of the Enemy's Ships, moſtly Neutrals, with French Goods."

Saturday laſt the Ship General Wolfe, Capt. Thompſon, arrived here in 27 Days from Monti-Chriſto; who informs us, That there was at that Place when he left it, 50 Sail of Engliſh Merchantmen: That the Reſolution Privateer of this Port, by ſome Accident or other, ſunk in heaving down, at that Place: And that he ſpoke with Capt. Haley, in the Privateer Sloop George, of this Place, cruizing off the Mount, all well on board.

Yeſterday arrived here from a ſucceſsful Cruize, the Privateer Snow Dreadnought, Capt. Taylor: She left New-Providence the 14th of April laſt, when there was in that Port, the Privateer Sloop Catharine, of this Place.---Capt. Taylor alſo informs, That on the 14th of April, the Privateer Brig Hope of this Port, ſail'd from Providence on a Cruize: That on the 1ſt of April laſt was brought in there by a ſmall Privateer, of one Carriage and ſix Swivel Guns, a large Dutch French Ship of above 400 Tons Burthen, richly laden with Sugar, Coffee, &c. taken coming out of Port-au-Prince, in the Bite of Leoganne.

Since our laſt, upwards of 40 Sail of Tranſports arrived from England, being thoſe that came out with Commodore Holmes. The Commodore, in the Somerſet, with the Terrible, proceeded for Halifax, as ſoon as the above Veſſels got ſafe into Sandy-Hook; and we hear, that, notwithſtanding the Fleet was ſo often ſeparated by hard Gales of Wind, only three Veſſels are miſſing, two of which are ſuppoſed to be taken, and the other was run down in the Night, but the Crew was taken up, and all put on board the Admiral's Ship.

Colonel Fraſier's Highlanders are now all embarked, and moſt of the Veſſels that have them on board, as well as others with Artillery, &c. are fell down to the Watering-Place, and ſome to the Hook; ſo that we have Reaſon to believe the whole Fleet will ſail this Week: They are to be convoyed by the Diana, Lizard, Trent, and Seahorſe Frigates; and the Nightingale and Scarborough, of Twenty Guns each.

Yeſterday embarked on board Sloops for Albany, the XLIId, or Royal Highland Regiment, who was quartered in this City all the Winter Seaſon.

By a Gentleman who left Albany laſt Thurſday at 5 a Clock in the Afternoon, we are informed, That His Excellency General AMHERST arrived there that Day at Eleven, and was received by the principal Gentlemen of that City, and the Officers of the Army there. Alſo, that ſome of the Tranſports with the Rhode Iſland Forces, arrived there juſt as he came away: And that great Expedition was uſed in tranſporting Proviſions, and other Neceſſaries, for the Uſe of the Army, to Fort Edward, &c.

Some of the Tranſports ordered to carry the 47th Regiment to Halifax, are arrived at Perth Amboy from Philadelphia; and they are embarking, or embarked, for that Purpoſe.

The Regiment lately Forbes's, embarked laſt Week from Elizabeth-Town Point, for Albany. And

The Highland Regiment of Col. Montgomery, are following as faſt as poſſible, having paſſed through New-Brunſwick on Wedneſday and Thurſday laſt, in their Way to Elizabeth-Town Point.

Capt. Moore, of Philadelphia, on Tueſday laſt was ſpoke with, all well.

PHILADELPHIA, May 10.

In a Letter, by Captain Donnell, from Captain M'Pherſon, of the Britannia Privateer, of this Port, to his Owners, he informs them as follows, viz. That by the Papers of the ſmall Veſſel he had taken from St. Vincents to Martinico, he learnt they were in great Diſtreſs for Want of Powder, in the Port of Barvale, two Letters mentioning, that they had but ſix Cartouches of Powder for the Guns at the Fort, and that there was a very large Sloop, richly laden, lying there; upon which he determined to pay them a Viſit, and arrived off the Port the Eighth of March: That on his Arrival before the Place, he immediately ſent his firſt Lieutenant on Shore in his Boat, as a Flag of Truce, to let the Governor know that he had intercepted his Letters in ſuch a Veſſel, by which he knew the Difficulties they laboured under; but that if they would deliver up the above mentioned Sloop, and three Sail more, which then lay there, he would not hurt the Inhabitants; and if they would not comply, he would come in, and beat down their Town; but received for Anſwer, that they would defend the Veſſels to the laſt Extremity: That upon this he got both his Boats a head, and got out the Ships Oars; and, at the ſame time, as it was calm, he handed all his Sails, to ſave them from the Fire of the Enemy: That ſoon after they began to play upon him from their Fort (which mounted only two French Six Pounders) and from three Trenches, one of which was very dangerous, being higher than his Top-gallant Maſt-head; as alſo from behind Houſes, Rocks and Trees: That he ſuppoſed they had about 600 Men under Small-arms, French, Indians and Negroes; but he bore their Fire, till he came within a good Piſtol Shot of their Fort, and there anchored with a Spring upon his Cable, and it being then about Noon, by Two o'Clock he ſilenced their Battery: That he then ſent his Boat on Shore again, to let them know what he ſaw the Advantage he had got, but that if they would come upon Terms with him, they might ſave the Town: That they took the Opportunity, while his Boat was on Shore, and remounted their Cannon, and ſent off an Anſwer much the ſame as before: That upon this the Action was renewed, which continued very ſmartly on both Sides till Dark, when the Firing ceaſed, he finding that they had received a Supply of Powder, and that it was impoſſible to cut the Veſſels out, as they were made faſt from their Maſt Heads, and ſundry other Places, to the Trenches, ſo went out to Sea, when a few Shot were exchanged: That during the Engagement a great many of the French fell, Half their Town was deſtroyed, and the Veſſels received a good deal of Damage: That the Britannia had two Men killed, viz. John Johnſton, and William Jones; Henry Ireland had his left Arm ſhot off; Samuel Buſby was ſhot through the Thigh; John Burrell ſhot through the Hand; and Thomas Jackman, William Cockburn, Daniel Simpſom, Andrew Slumman, and William Reaugh wounded; but all like to do well; and that his Officers behaved moſt gallantly. The Ship ſuffered a good Deal in her Hull and Rigging.----Captain Wallace of the Earl of Loudon, of New-York, was in Sight when he took the Sloop, and carried her into St. Chriſtophers.

The French Fleet, lately arrived at Martinico, brought Warlike Stores with them, but no Troops.

Monday laſt Captain Brown arrived here from Barbados, in four Weeks Paſſage. When he ſailed, a very large Fleet was juſt arrived from England, under Convoy of a 50, and two 20 Gun Ships.

Extract of a Letter from Antigua, April 14, 1759.

"Captain Donnell ſails under Convoy of the Amazon, who, we ſuppoſe, is going to inform Admiral Saunders where Bompar is, and the Situation of Matters here. We are now in great Expectations that Guadaloupe and Grandterre will be ours very ſhortly, and are every Day anxiouſly looking out for Captain Tyrrell, with a Reinforcement ſufficient to enable us to puſh for Martinico. Bompar's Situation there ſeems to be critical indeed; he is afraid to go away, and afraid to ſtay. He was certainly intended for Canada; how he came this Way, Heaven knows; but it was little leſs than a Miracle that ſaved our London Fleet from falling into his Hands, as well as Commodore Keppel. Should Mr. Moore have a handſome Reinforcement, and Bompar ſtay where he is, every Ship he has muſt certainly fall, which will be a noble Stroke indeed."

Captain Dowſe, in a Ship from Boſton for St. Chriſtophers, is put into Nevis full of Water.

Since our laſt we have received certain Advice, that the Road betwixt Pittſburgh and Fort Bedford is not Way-laid by the Enemy; and that Lieutenant Campbell's Loſs is not ſo great as was repreſented.

From Fort Ligonier there is Advice, that two Men, who were lately taken by the Enemy, with three more, near that Place, had made their Eſcape, and come in. They report that Venango is a compleat ſtockaded Fort, without any Ditch; and that there were about 200 French, and 80 Indians, in it.

ARRIVALS.

At Barbados. The Captains Stiles and Knox, from Philadelphia; Turrell and Polegreen, from New-York; and a Brig and Sloop (the Commanders Names of both Calvert) from Virginia.

At Antigua. Simpſon and M'Lane, from Philadelphia; and Lyall, from Virginia.

At Madeira. Dreſon and Ware, from Philadelphia; and Blake, from Virginia.

Charles-Town (in South-Carolina) April 14.

THE Expreſs which arrived in Town laſt Sunday Evening from the Cherokee's, brought Advice of the Little-Carpenter's Return to his Country, and that he does not ſeem to reſent his being diſarmed near Fort Duqueſne: And we learn, that he may be expected here in a few Days.

We hear, that a Nation of Indians reſiding in Louiſiana, called the Stinking-Lingo, being heartily tired of their old Maſters, have actually deſired Leave to remove under the Protection of our Friend Indians in the Creek or Chickeſaw Country.

We likewiſe hear, that the Chactaws are tired of their French Maſters, and anxious to quit their Service: And that 30 of their Headmen have been ſome Time in the Wolf King's Town, to make ſome Propoſals favourable to our Trade and Intereſts in the preſent Conjuncture.

On the other Hand, the Arrival of a French Boat with Brandy, &c. at the Halbama Fort, in February laſt, had tempted a Number of the Creeks to repair thither for preſents, &c.

We do not hear of any additional Reinforcement intended to be ſent to our Forts in the Cherokee's.

And with Regard to the two Parties of that Nation that lately went out towards the French Fort, we can only acquaint our Readers, that one of them, commanded by Thick-legs, conſiſts of 23 Indians, with whom 3 white Men are gone, ſent by Capt. Demeré; no Advices having been received from them ſince they ſet off.

Letters from Auguſta in Georgia inform us, that Mr. Atkin was proceeding in his Journey to the Creek Country, but had been much retarded by the People, who had engaged to ſupply him with Horſes, diſappointing him. We hear likewiſe with Pleaſure, that the Traders in thoſe Parts have ſeen their Error in endeavouring to obſtruct the carrying into Execution the Meaſures taken by the ſaid Gentleman in regard to the Matters he is charged with by his Commiſſion and Inſtructions, and that all Miſunderſtandings of that Nature are removed, which cannot fail of promoting his Majeſty's Service.

A Comet, thought to be that whoſe Return was foretold by the great HALLEY, has for ſome Time paſt been viſible to the Inhabitants of this Province.

April 21. Laſt Monday arrrived here the Snow William, Captain James Joliff, from Cadiz, in 8 Weeks. He brings a Confirmation of the Death of Ferdinand VI. King of Spain, which he ſays was concealed, or kept ſecret, for ſome Time: And adds, that when he left Cadiz, upwards of 50 Spaniſh Men of War were fitting out, with all poſſible Diſpatch, to bring over the Succeſſor to that Crown from Naples, who, it was reported, had been refuſed a Paſſage thro' the Dominions of France.

The Little-Carpenter came down on Monday laſt, accompanied by ſeveral Headmen and Warriors, and other Cherokee Indians, to the Number in all of 90 odd, and has had three Audiences of His Excellency the Governor in Council, ſince his Arrival; in which he has taken great Pains to remove the ill Conceptions of his Conduct near Fort Duqueſne, in deſerting General FORBES before he took Poſſeſſion of that Place; and given the ſtrongeſt Aſſurances of his unſhaken Fidelity and inviolable Attachment to the Engliſh. He brought a Scalp to His Excellency, which he had taken while with the General. And we hear that, on his Arrival at Keowee, in the lower Cherokee Nation, he ſent a Letter to Virginia, to the Lieutenant-Governor of that Province, in which he promiſed to uſe his utmoſt Endeavours to prevent his Countrymen from committing any more Outrages againſt the white People there.

About 70 Catawba Indians are come down, with King Heigler at their Head; and Yeſterday the King, with ſome of his Chiefs, had an Audience of the Governor in Council.

On Friday Night, the 13th Inſtant, one James Allen, who had lately been Overſeer on ſeveral Gentlemens Plantations about Aſhley-River, went to one of Mr. Thomas Fuller's, upon the Stono Road, where lived a poor induſtrious Dutch Family, of the Name of Peters, conſiſting of an old Woman, a young Man, her Son, and her Daughter, a Girl; and after having been in the Houſe a little While, called young Peters out, pretending he wanted to ſpeak with him, and ran him through the Body with a Cutlaſs he had ſtolen: The Noiſe occaſioned thereby brought out the old Woman, whom Allen next attacked, gave her three deſperate Cuts in the Head, one on the Shoulder, and another on the Arm, and the Daughter coming to interfere, received alſo a Wound on one Side of her Face: While this was tranſacting, Peters got up, ran into the Houſe, took up his Gun, and ſhot the execrable Villain in the back Part of his Neck, ſo that he dropped down inſtantly: In this Condition they all lay bleeding 'till next Morning, when the Girl went to the neareſt Plantation, related this ſad Cataſtrophe, and got ſome Aſſiſtance to relieve her Mother and Brother, and ſecure Allen. The Villain was accordingly ſecured, brought to Town on Saturday Night, and committed to Goal, but died next Morning.----Mrs. Peters, tho' a Piece of her Skull was cut away, and her Son and Daughter, we hear, are likely to do well.

The Evidences againſt the Negroe who the beginning of laſt Month moſt cruelly murdered ſeveral white People at the Congarees, and has been ſome Time in the Work-Houſe, have at length appeared; the Fellow has been tried and convicted, and is to be hung in Chains, on Tueſday next, at the dividing Path between the two Quarter-Houſes.

St. Jago de la Vega (in Jamaica) February 10.

By a Gentleman arrived on Monday laſt from Coracoa, we are informed, that on Sunday Se'nnight, Capt. Peter Grignion, Commander of a Privateer Sloop of St. Kitts (Conſort of the Thurloe, Capt. Mantle) coming out of Coracoa Harbour, diſcovered a French Privateer Schooner ſtretching in, whereon Grignion croſſing the Harbour, got between the Schooner and Town, when an Engagement enſued, in Sight of the Fort, and ſo near it, that three of the Schooner's Balls paſſed the Governor and other Gentlemen, who happening then to be near the Fort, were viewing the Engagement. The Fort was then ordered to fire upon the Engliſh Privateer, which it did, 36 Shot, without Effect, Grignion having boarded and made Prize of the Schooner, and returned a low Obeiſance to every Shot fired from the Fort.

During the above Engagement, the Commander of a French Privateer Snow (who had been beating up for Volunteers at Coracoa, and had ſhipped near an Hundred ſtout Fellows, Dutch free Negroes included) applied to the Governor for Leave to go out againſt the Engliſh Privateer, which, with ſome Difficulty, having obtained, a Number of new Volunteers immediately jumped on board. The Frenchman with all Expedition ſailed out, whom Grignion perceiving, ſent his Prize away, and (though he had but fifty Hands left) waited for this formidable Antagoniſt, who coming up cloſe, endeavoured ſeveral Times to board him, but in vain, Grignion's Sloop ſailing round the Frenchman with great Eaſe, and pouring in a Broadſide and Volley of ſmall Arms each Time. They then (at Three o'Clock in the Afternoon) came to cloſe Engagement, and continued till Duſk, when they lay by to refit. The Fire in a little Time was renewed on both Sides with great Bravery, and continued until Twelve at Night, when they parted by Conſent, and Grignion purſued his Voyage. During the Engagement Wagers of a Thouſand Milled Dollars to an Hundred were laid againſt Grignion. The Frenchman returned next Day to careen, being greatly damaged, and having a Number of Men miſerably wounded and burnt, but would not own any killed, tho' many of the Volunteers were miſſing.

Port-Royal, Feb. 25. Arrived two Dutch Sloops and a French Schooner, taken by the private Ships of War Adventure and Thurloe.

St. Jago de la Vega, March 10. On Saturday laſt arrived a Spaniſh Sloop from Cuba, which brought down the Crews of the Ships Adventure, Capt. Ballantine, and the St. Andrew, Capt. Murray, which Veſſels having ſailed with the laſt Fleet for London, were taken off the Navaſa by a French Privateer Schooner, and the Captains ſent to Old France.

Kingſton. Thurſday Evening laſt arrived here the Privateer Sloop Thurloe, Capt. Mantle, who, on Tueſday the ſixth Inſtant, had a ſmart Engagement with a Schooner Privateer of 22 Guns, and 160 Men, commanded by Monſ. Palanqui, which laſted near two Hours; after which the Frenchman bore away, and Capt. Mantle returned to this Port to refit.

Port-Royal, March 9. Arrived a French Prize Sloop, ſent in by his Majeſty's Sloop Viper, Capt. Uſher.

St. JOHN's, in ANTIGUA, April 18.

By our laſt Letters from Guadaloupe, we are informed, that General Clavering was in Poſſeſſion of Petit-Bourg.---The Enemy had handſomely diſputed the Paſs of Arnontille with ſix Pieces of Cannon, in the ſtrongeſt Situation poſſible. In gaining this Paſs we had 12 Men killed, and about 40 wounded. The Enemy had 25 Men killed, a great Number wounded, and about 60 were made Priſoners: After halting the Men about 4 Hours, to refreſh them, General Clavering marched on towards Petit-Bourg; but as he found the Enemy ſtrongly intrenched at the only Paſs of the River Trinity, he collected, during the Night, a Number of Canoes, and paſſed the River; and dividing his Men into three different Bodies, with a Deſign to make three different Attacks at the ſame Time, the Enemy were ſo terrified, that they abandoned their immenſe Works, without ſcarcely firing a Shot. The Behaviour of our Men deſerves the higheſt Commendation. We have taken 16 Pieces of Cannon; and it is hoped that we ſhall ſoon hear of the Succeſs of another important Enterprize.

Yeſterday the Cerberus Frigate, with the Fleet from Cork, arrived off the South Side of this Iſland, where the Ships for this Place parted Company, and the reſt went to Leeward. This Fleet arrived off Barbados on Saturday laſt, on which Day the Packet arrived there; and two Days before, they ſpoke to a Frigate from England in three Weeks, ſent Expreſs (as is ſuppoſed) to Commodore Moore.

N. B. The Proprietor has all Things neceſſary.

From the St. Christophers Gazette, March 14, 1759.

AT a time, when not only the attention of this ſmall government, but likewiſe the eyes of great part of Europe, are fixed on the ſucceſs of his Majeſty's arms among theſe iſlands; when the various incidents which have hitherto attended them, have in every company furniſhed the principal topic for converſation; it will not, I hope, be deemed preſumption in any one to offer his ſentiments on the preſent ſituation of affairs; as the meaneſt hints have frequently been productive of the happieſt conſequences; and it muſt be remembered, that the Roman capitol was once ſaved by the cackling of a gooſe.

I confeſs myſelf pleaſed with the warmth with which I have heard many members of this little community argue concerning the errors of our troops at Guadaloupe, and, notwithſtanding the concern I ſhould be under to hear the conduct of our commanders arraigned with any degree of juſtice, I am not diſguſted at theſe reflections, as I make no doubt but that theſe ſtaunch patriots, who have been ſo expert at detecting their faults, will be equally ready to contribute to an effectual and expeditious remedy; every man has now a fair opportunity of exerting himſelf, and ſpecifying in practice what he could before only propoſe in theory. The place conteſted for, which was deemed inſignificant, and defenceleſs (and evinces that we are ſometimes miſtaken) has been diſputed with an unexpected obſtinacy and reſolution, and the troops, which were employed upon this expedition found inſufficient to obtain the laurels,---at leaſt without ſome difficulty. In conſequence of this, there is a neceſſity of raiſing reinforcements from the Leeward Iſlands; and, to encourage and promote the public cauſe, his Majeſty's Council and Aſſembly of this iſland have made a generous addition to the bounty granted by the commanding officers at ſea and land; ſo that what remains to be executed reſts upon its inhabitants, and it is incumbent upon every man, both duly to conſider the evil conſequences that may attend the failure of this enterprize, and make uſe of every means to guard againſt an event that would be ſo detrimental to theſe colonies, where he is ſo immediately concerned.

It would be loſs of time to expatiate on the deplorable condition that muſt be the inevitable conſequence of abandoning our preſent purſuit, or to enumerate the benefits that will accrue, if we ſucceed: The natural ſtate of war, if I may ſo call it, that we are in with the French nation, their jealouſy, and proſecutions of the Britiſh commerce; and finally, their power and inveteracy, are ſufficiently obvious to every reader. One thing indeed I would add, viz. the nearneſs and conveniency of their ſituation, and by the kind and charitable aſſiſtances which they have received from this iſland, by the way of St. Euſtatius, it is to be feared they do not, even here, want a few friends and well wiſhers. 'Tis true theſe latter have ſet all laws at defiance with impunity: But the rod of juſtice, tho' ſlow, is certain; and more than one already begins to ſmart ſeverely for his tranſgreſſion, and to find the inconveniency of holding any communication with a people, whoſe faith and honeſty are as ſaleable as any of their commodities,---and their credit equally bad.

I would only appeal to the heart of every Engliſhman (theſe half Dutchmen do not merit that denomination) and ſtand by the reſult of his ſentiments upon a mature reflection, whether we ſhould not be guilty of the blackeſt ingratitude, in declining to contribute our mites towards adding the iſland of Guadaloupe to the reſt of his Majeſty's ſugar plantations? Is not the eſtabliſhment and ſecurity of our own properties the principal view and advantage of ſuch an acquiſition? and I think I may venture to ſay, notwithſtanding our preſent ſuperiority of force in this part of the world, our poſſeſſions were never ſo much at ſtake, and I believe endangered, if we fail of ſucceſs: If we make a drawn game of this affair, we are in a condition which every Weſt Indian muſt tremble to think of.

Had all our attacks upon the enemy been ineffectual, it might ſeem like a mixture of frenſy and deſpair to be determined on a project which bore all the apppearances of being impracticable: On the contrary, a great part of our work is already performed, and we are arrived within view of the end propoſed; we have driven the enemy before us, and diſpoſſeſſed them of moſt of their ſtrong poſts and entrenchments. One reſolute puſh, one univerſal aſſault will compel the enemy to cry out for quarter, and ſurrender themſelves at diſcretion. Theſe, however, are pieces of ſucceſs from whence we ſhall reap no advantage, unleſs improved in time. The foe ſtaggers; if we follow our blow, he falls at our feet;---if we allow him reſpite, he recovers his vigour, miſconſtrues our delays into fears, and renews the attack with double fury; for the moſt dangerous wounds, unleſs ſeaſonably prevented, will heal, and inſpire a man with freſh anger.

Let us then be unanimous in our reſolution. Let us but conſider what uſe the enemy would make of theſe advantages, if they fell on their ſide. Let us be at leaſt as induſtrious for our own ſecurity, as they would be for our deſtruction. And let us rather encreaſe than relax our vigour, leſt the torrent ſhould hurry us unexpectedly from whence we firſt ſet out. The method that promiſes faireſt to prevent a miſcarriage, is to raiſe ſuch a reinforcement as will be ſufficient, in conjunction with thoſe levied in the other iſlands, to ſupport his majeſty's troops, and eaſe them of the great fatigue which they muſt at preſent labour under; and 'tis to be hoped thoſe who have been moſt ſtrenuous, and endeavoured to appear particularly concerned in this enterprize, will be the moſt zealous in promoting an augmentation. It is certain that zeal cannot remain undiſtinguiſhed in ſo ſmall a community as this; and the ſtrongeſt gratitude will be due to the greateſt alertneſs and diligence.

The ſituation of affairs is ſo urgent, that little more ought to be added; moſt readers muſt be acquainted with the miſery of a repulſe, tho' many there are who eſteem what they do not immediately ſee and feel, as bare probability and ſpeculation. I ſhall conclude with the part of a ſpeech, with which one of the moſt glorious monarchs that ever ſway'd the Britiſh ſcepter, addreſſed his parliament; "You have yet an opportunity, ſaid he, to ſecure "to you and your poſterity the quiet enjoyment of your "liberty and properties, if you are not wanting to your-"ſelves, but will exert the ancient vigour of the Engliſh "nation, but I tell you plainly, my opinion is, if you "do not lay hold on this occaſion, you have no reaſon to "hope for another." BRITANNICUS.

BOSTON, May 7.

Tueſday laſt Capt. Freeman arrived here from Oporto in 6 Weeks, by whom we learn, That juſt before he ſailed, they had received Advice of the Death of the King of Spain; and it was generally believed to be true by the Conſul and the Engliſh Factory there.---They alſo had an account, That the Packet from England to Liſbon in her Paſſage fell in with a Ship in great Diſtreſs, which proved to be a Frenchman, homeward bound, from the Weſt-Indies, ſuppoſed to be worth 20,000 l. Sterling: The Frenchman willingly ſubmitted to be taken by the Packet, who carried her into Liſbon:---That the Jeſuits who were confined to their Convent, on Suſpicion of their being concerned in the late Conſpiracy, to take away the Life of the King of Portugal, were ſentenced to perpetual Baniſhment.

We hear from Huſuck, that the Indians carried off two Men from that Place laſt Monday.

Saturday laſt Capt. Maſon arrived at Marblehead from Louiſburgh, which he left the Tueſday before, and informs, that Admiral Saunders, with 12 Sail of the Line, and 28 Tranſports, were arrived there, and that a 50 Gun-Ship, three Fire-ſhips, three 20 Gun Ships, and 12 Tranſports, were arrived at Halifax: Capt. Maſon alſo informs, that the Tranſports arrived at Louiſburgh had Troops on board, but that thoſe which arrived at Halifax were empty; and that he had brought Diſpatches for his Excellency General Amherſt.

On Monday laſt his Excellency the Governor ſet out for the Eaſtern Parts of New-England, upon a Service of great Importance.

CAMBRIDGE, May 2.

The Comet which appeared in the Beginning of April, paſſed its deſcending Node, and continued its Route ſouth-weſtward, as we expected. It was then coming almoſt directly towards the Earth, and by its near Approach, its apparent Motion was very much accelerated; and thus in a ſhort Time it ran ſo far to the ſouthward, as not to riſe above our Horizon. I ſaw it on the 19th, pretty far to the South, and low, being near the Middle of Aquarius, with about 13 Degrees South Lat. The two next Mornings very cloudy, and on the 22d, I could not find it. While it was inviſible in theſe northern Latitudes, it paſſed thro' the ſouthern Conſtellations, to above 50 Degrees South Latitude, according to my Computation; and all this Time was to be ſeen in the ſouthern Countries, where it muſt have appeared larger than it had done to us. It was neareſt the Earth on the 25th, and purſuing its Courſe, after it had paſſed by the Earth, it again roſe above our Horizon; and on the 29th in the Evening, at Half an Hour after 8, it was very plain, being near the Meridian, and about 15 Degrees high. It was not ſo bright as before, but appeared bigger, and its Tail longer and broader;---occaſioned by its being nearer the Earth, for it was much farther from the Sun. It was a little South of that Part of Hydra, which is under Crater; juſt in the End of Virgo, with about 36 Degrees South Lat. So that in the 10 Days when we could not ſee it, it had paſſed thro' four Signs and a Half, viz. Half of Aquarius, and the Whole of Capricorn, Sagittarius, Scorpio, and Libra. Its Courſe is N. W. But as it is departing now from the Earth as well as from the Sun, its Motion will become ſlower continually, and it will grow ſmaller and dimmer till it diſappears.

It may probably be thought a Difficulty by ſome, that this Comet ſhould be all this While purſuing the ſame Courſe, tho' at firſt it moved ſouthward, and then northward; but the Difficulty will vaniſh upon reflecting, that Northward and Southward are relative Terms, and are uſed with Reference to Poles.---While the Comet was going nearer the ſouth Pole, it moved ſouthward; but after it had paſſed its neareſt Diſtance therefrom, its continuing to move in the ſame Direction, carried it farther from that Pole. Now to move farther from the South Pole, is to move northward. J. W.

Sir William Pepperrel lies very dangerouſly ill at his Seat in Kittery.

NEW-YORK, May 14.

On Thurſday laſt arrived here, the Letter of Marque Brig Polly and Fanny, Capt. Tuder, from St. Kitts, but laſt from St. Martins, in 17 Days. He acquaints us, That ſeveral Gentlemen who came down thither from St. Euſtatia, a Day or two before he ſailed, gave out, That a French Brig and Sloop came in there from Bay Mahoo, on Guadaloupe, which Place the Frenchmen ſaid they were obliged to quit very haſtily, as it was attacked by a Body of 900 of our Forces, and carried; that the French oppoſed the Attack for nine Days, when a truly bold Puſh on our Part, obliged Monſieurs to give Way, and retreat, leaving the Bay (the only and laſt Place the Enemy had on the Iſland, whereby they hoped for Supply) in our Poſſeſſion: That our Forces were much weakened, on Account of their being obliged to divide, in order to hold the ſeveral Out-Poſts they had taken, thereby preventing the Enemy's Communications: That they had Advice of Capt. Tyrrel's ſafe Arrival in England, and daily expected his Return: And that the Reinforcements from Antigua, St. Kitts, &c. all opportunely arrived, and gave great Hopes of the French Governor's, who was ſtill in his Intrenchments in the Mountains, reſigning ſoon after.

We are further acquainted by Capt. Tuder, That Commodore Moore, with his Fleet, was ſtill at Prince Rupert's Bay, at Dominico [ſituate between Martinico and Guadaloupe, and in Sight of each] waiting the Motion of the French Fleet under Bompar, who continued at Fort-Royal on Martinico, not having left that Place ſince his firſt Arrival.

Capt. Tuder confirms the News under the Philadelphia Head, with Reſpect to the Governor of Guadaloupe's writing a Letter to that of Martinico for Aſſiſtance; and further ſays, that a Sloop was taken between the two Iſlands with the Letter on board; and that it particularly mentioned his (the Governor) being obliged to give up his Hold in about eight Days after Date, if no Relief appeared.

Part of a Letter from Halifax, dated April 28, 1759.

"The Manager of the Light Houſe is juſt come up. He lately went down to put it up; and has fixed it, with every Thing that is convenient for Shipping: It was lighted the 23d Inſtant; and as it is of Service to the Publick, to our Veſſels as well as others, you will make it publick by publiſhing it in your Paper. It is ſituated one League S. W. of the Harbour, on Sambra Iſland. I thought it a new Thing, and of Service; ſo I have taken the Pains to give you Information of it."

Friday Morning laſt arrived here, a large French Prize Sloop, taken the 16th of March laſt, about five Leagues from Coracoa, by the Privateers True Briton, and Duke of Marlborough, the Captains Maſterſon, and Fenton, both of this Port. She carried a Letter of Marque, is called the Enterprize, of 124 Tons Burthen, was from Martinico, bound to Coracoa, mounted 12 Guns, and had 56 Men, and engaged Captain Maſterſon two Hours, the Duke of Marlborough not being able to get up to his Aſſiſtance: The Frenchman had ſeveral Men killed, and the True Briton ſome few wounded. Her Cargo conſiſts of 121 Hogſheads, 30 Tierces, and 13 Barrels, of Sugar; 13 Bales of Cotton; 30 Hogſheads, and 300 Bags of Coffee; together with 83 Bags of Cocoa; conſequently eſteemed a rich Prize.

Capt. Maſterſon writes to his Owners, That he expected a Brig and three Sloops from Martinico down to Coracoa, therefore intended to lay in Wait, the Enemy now ſhipping great Quantities of their Produce to that Iſland.

Mr. Hyer, who came in one of the Prize Maſters of the Sloop, informs us, That about the Beginning of March, the True Briton, in Company with the Marlborough, drove two Schooners and a Sloop on Shore, on the Spanish Main, but could not venture nigh enough the Land to get them off, without riſquing the Loſs of their Veſſels.

The 30th of April, off Cape-Hatteras, Captain Hyer met with a violent Gale of Wind, in which he loſt his Boom, and all the Guns off his Deck.

Tueſday Night Capt. Jauncey arrived here in 30 Days from Antigua: The third Inſtant, in Latitude 38, he ſpoke with Capt. Robinſon, in a Brig from Monto-Chriſto for Rhode-Iſland, who, a few Days before, in Latitude 39, had met with a violent Gale of Wind, in which he had loſt his Boat and Rudder, with a great many other Articles off his Deck, but was making the beſt of his Way Home.

Extract of a Letter from Albany, dated May 7.

"There lately appeared a Party of French and Indians at Fort Stanwix: John Tiebout, with a ſmall Party of Rangers, ruſhed out, but being too few in Compariſon of the Enemy, were obliged to return back to the Fort with all Speed, and all got in ſafe except John Tiebout and another, who were killed: Tiebout was not ſcalped, but ſoon after brought back, and was properly interred."

Letters from Albany, per Yeſterday's Poſt, inform us that one of our Men was, a few Days paſt, ſcalped near one of the Forts between Albany and Fort Edward.

PHILADELPHIA, May 17.

On Monday next the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province meets here.

Captain Lamont, from Montſerrat, informs us, That the Day before he ſailed, a French Family came in from Guadaloupe: That the Report there was, that the French of that Iſland were in great Diſtreſs for Want of Proviſions, being obliged to eat what Horſes, Dogs, &c. they had with them. That their Negroes were coming in every Day to our People, they having nothing to ſupport them with, and our Privateers continually bringing in Plunder: That ſeveral Dutchmen, and ſome Frenchmen, laden with Proviſions, from St. Euſtatia for Guadaloupe, were carried into Montſerrat: That a Number of French Privateers, and ſo laden with Proviſions, were lying at St. Euſtatia, not daring to come out, for Fear of falling in with our Men of War, ſome of which were conſtantly cruizing off the Harbour's Mouth: And that a Company of Volunteers of 100 Men, white and black, were raiſed at Montſerrat to go to Guadaloupe.

Captain Haſelton, in his Paſſage from Jamaica, ſpoke with a Providence Privateer, who had been at the Bay of Hundy, on Cuba, where was a French Privateer Brig, of 14 Carriage Guns, and 80 Men, from the Miſſiſippi (the ſame that took Capt. Donnell of this Port, and ſome other Veſſels, laſt Year, on this Coaſt) She is a ſingle decked Veſſel, put in there for ſome Hands, and deſigned to cruize much about the ſame Place ſhe was in when the above Veſſels were taken. She was at Hundy about 40 Days ago. Capt. Wilſon, in a Sloop for New-York, ſailed before Captain Haſelton.

A ſmall Privateer has carried into New-Providence, a large Dutch Frenchman, with 600 Hogſheads of Sugar on board.

The Ship Weſtmoreland, Captain Taylor, of this Port, bound to St. Kitts, was caſt away on the Plate Wreck, and the Veſſel and Cargoe intirely loſt.

By a Gentleman from Barbados we have the following

Extract of a Letter from Grandterre, dated April 14, 1759.

"Every Thing now wears a more pleaſing Aſpect than before; the General is beloved; the ſick Men recover faſt, the Well are always kept in Action; and Encouragement given for good Behaviour, neither are they ſo much fatigued as formerly, and therefore do not fall into Diſeaſes, nor the Recovered relapſe.---The firſt Thing that was done after General Barrington took the Command, and came here, was the taking and deſtroying St. Ann's, where was a Battery of 7 Guns; they burnt down the Town, and Houſes and Works near it; they did the ſame at St. Francois, where was a ſmall Battery, and then returned. While this was doing, 400 Men were ſent under Command of the Lieutenant Colonel to Goſhee, where was a one Gun Battery, about 2 Miles above Fort Louis. They got aſhore, drove the Enemy from their Trenches, took the Battery, and two ſmall Pieces of Cannon more; then they marched back to Fort Louis, and as they returned, they came upon a Maſked Battery of 3 Guns, which the French had, with immenſe Labour, erected, without our perceiving it, and ſo ſituated, that it would have deſtroyed moſt of our Troops in Camp, at leaſt it would have done much Miſchief: But the fortunate Part was, that we came upon it, juſt as they were unmaſking it; the Guns were all primed, loaded with Langrel, and pointed down at the Head Quarters, and would have ſoon begun to play. Three Men only were loſt in this Attack.

"The 12th, a Scheme was laid, and put in Execution with 1700 Men, under the Command of General Clavering to attack the Village of Petit-Bourg, on Guadaloupe Side; they failed in the Night with the Woolwich, and began the Attack in the Morning; but the Woolwich not being able to get near enough the Battery, the Soldiers attacked the Enemy in their Trenches, carried them, took the Battery, with six Pieces of Cannon, and about 60 Prisoners; many of them principal People: We had 12 Men killed, and 40 wounded; they did not burn the Town, but it serves for Shelter to our Men; they are burning all the Sugar Works and Canes. Yesterday they marched out to attack a very strong Post of the Enemy, with a River in Front, and finding they could not ford it, they surprized a great Number of Canoes, and passed the River in the Face of the Enemy, who gave them a most heavy Fire from their Cannon and small Arms. Our Troops, resolved on Victory, pushed on, drove them, and took ten Pieces of Cannon, and did not lose any Men. We are now in Possession of a large Tract of Ground, on that Part of Guadaloupe, next Grandterre, and this Day they are in March to attack a Place called Beemeau, where they have another very strong Place; when that is taken, they will have but one or two more Holds; and it is generally believed they must surrender. Gen. Barrington is laid up with the Gout, but this does not prevent him from forming his Schemes, and he has the Satisfaction to see the Goodness of his Officers and Men carry them all into Success. The Fort at Basseterre has been molested by the Enemy, tho' nothing very material has happened there, except that our People sallied out, and took three Pieces of Cannon the Enemy had brought against the Fort.

"The Fleet is now lying at Dominico, to cover our Operations here; the Cruizers are continually out; the Antigua has taken a Sloop with Ammunition, and destroyed three others; they were lying at the Saints, ready to push over to Guadaloupe. Some intercepted Letters say, that the French are in great Distress, and that the Arrival of Mr. Bompar increases it, as he can do nothing to succour them. The Island of Antigua has sent about 370 Men; St. Kitts has sent 200; and Montserrat one Company to Guadaloupe."

Extract of a Letter from Barbados, April 20, 1759.

"By an Express which arrived here a few Days ago, in Twenty-three Days from Spithead, there is an Account of sixty odd Sail of French Vessels, most of them Store Ships, having sailed for St. Domingo, under Convoy of seven Dutch Men of War, three of which chaced the Express: That the King of the two Sicilies having requested of the Court of England to have an Admiral to accompany him in paying a Visit to the King of Spain before his Death, Admiral Boscawen was accordingly gone with him: That on the Death of His Spanish Majesty, it was expected War would be declared by Spain and Sardinia against the French; and a Dutch War was likewise much talked of: That the King of Prussia had shut up Count Daun in such a Manner, that he must either surrender, or fight his Way through: That Capt. Tyrrel was arrived in England, and was most graciously received by His Majesty, who was pleased to desire his Hand; and as he was endeavouring to get his Right-Hand (which was wounded) out of a Sling, the King desired him to give him the other, as his Right-Hand was hurt, by gallantly fighting in His Service, and for the Good of his Country."

Another Letter from Barbados mentions Capt. Tyrrel's coming immediately out again, with twelve or fourteen Sail of Men of War, and forty Transports.

And we have Advice from the same Place, that a Number of the principal People of Guadaloupe had surrendered to the English; and that they daily expected to hear of the Reduction of the whole Island.

From the Antigua Gazettes of April 21, 25, 28, and May 3, we have the following Advices.

DRESDEN, February 13.

IT is confidently aſſerted, that a Body of 6000 Bavarians is to enter into Britiſh Pay, in Conſequence of a Convention between the Courts of London and Munich.

Breſlau, Feb. 18. The King our Sovereign continues to enjoy a perfect State of Health, but His Majeſty is ſo much taken up with ſettling the Plan of Operations for the enſuing Campaign, that he gives up all Kind of Pleaſures, and appears in Publick only two or three Times a Week. All the Regiments which are to compoſe the Army which His Majeſty is to command in Perſon, are already compleat, and the Magazines which he ordered to be formed upon the Frontiers of Sileſia, are full of Materials of all Kinds.

Berlin, (a large City in the Electorate of Brandenburgh, the Capital of the King of Pruſſia's Dominions) February 17. George Charles Amilius, poſthumous Son of the late Prince of Pruſſia, died the 15th Inſt. in the Night, aged three Months and a Half.

Nuremberg, (one of the greateſt trading Cities in Germany, very populous, a free and Imperial City, governed by its own Magiſtrates) Feb. 18. The laſt Advices from Bohemia import, that Marſhal Daun is expected at Prague towards the End of this Month, but will ſtay only a few Days, to give Orders concerning the March of the Troops, which we are told are to aſſemble about Konigſgratz, that they may be at Hand to cover Moravia, or to enter Sileſia, according as Circumſtances may require.

Francfort, (a large City in Germany) Feb. 8. Though we were not able to find Forage enough for the French Troops already quartered upon us, four Battalions more were brought into this City Yeſterday; ſo that there is not a Houſe in Town free from theſe troubleſome Gueſts. However, the French Commander makes us hope they will be withdrawn a little before the Eaſter Fair.

From the Frontiers of the Country of Heſſe Caſſel, Feb. 20.

The Prince of Iſenburgh has removed his Head Quarters from Fritzlar to Homberg, where the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick is to join him with a large Reinforcement. We reckon that after this Junction the Heſſian Army may be about 20,000 ſtrong, and that it will advance immediately towards Caſſel, in order to ſecure this City from any Inſult.

We are informed by the laſt Letters from Hamburgh, that a large Body of Pruſſian Troops, detached from the Army of General Dohna, advanced the 18th Inſt. towards Fort Pennamund, in order to lay Siege to it.

Paris, Feb. 19. According to Advices from Italy, the Neapolitan Army is advancing towards Romagnia, and 40,000 Piedmonteſe towards Antibes.

Madrid, Feb. 5. According to Letters from Liſbon of the 23d ult. M. Calvalho, who is at the Head of the Council appointed to try the Accomplices in the Conſpiracy againſt the King of Portugal, continues to conduct that Affair with all the Wiſdom and Precaution imaginable. Since the 13th there has been no other publick Execution; but the Marquis de Gouvea, Son to the late Duke of Aveiro, has been ſent to the Carthuſian Monaſtery at Evoro, there to end his Days. Joſeph Maria de Tavora, Canon of the Patriarchal Church, and Brother of the eldeſt Marquis de Tavora, is condemned to perpetual Impriſonment, with ſeveral other Eccleſiaſticks. Joſeph Policarpo de Azevedo, who was burnt in Effigy, was ſeized the next Day at Setuval, and has been conducted to Priſon. The 13th all the Troops received Orders to be under Arms, and they expect another Execution ſoon. The Counts de Ovidos and de Ciberia, who, it was reported, had been ſet at Liberty, are ſtill in Priſon.

In the Partition which the Conſpirators had made, it was agreed, that after the Death of the King, and ſecuring the Royal Family, the Duke de Aveiro ſhould be proclaimed King; that the elder Marquis of Tavora ſhould be Hereditary Viceroy of Braſil; and that the young Marquis of Tavora and the Count de Atouguia ſhould be Viceroys of Antigua, and the other Eſtabliſhments in Africa, which were, for that Purpoſe, to be divided into two equal Parts.

Paris, Feb. 13. Marſhal Soubiſe, who is now of the Council of State, is drawing up with his Majeſty, and the other Members of that Council, the Plan of Operations for the approaching Campaign. Purſuant to this Plan, the Prince of Soubiſe is to be no longer employed in the Field, and the Command of his Army is given to the Count of Duſatia (Prince Zavierus of Saxony) who is to have M. de Chevert under him.

FRANCE.

We hear from Paris, Feb. 16. that M. de Bompar's ſquadron, which ſailed on the 20th ult. had on board a great quantity of warlike ſtores, proviſions, and ſome troops, and was to convoy five ſhips belonging to the Eaſt-India Company to a certain Latitude. As the deſtination of this ſquadron is for Canada, they expect to hear of its ſafe arrival; or at leaſt if it meets with any of the Engliſh ſquadrons, that it will be able to give them a warm reception.---- They write from Breſt, Feb. 2. that the firſt diviſion of the ſhips fitted out by the India company at Port l'Orient is ſailed; and that the ſecond diviſion was to be ready by the 15th. If they had ſtaid a few weeks longer, they might have ſhared the fate of the ſhips at St. Maloes. They ſay that near forty privateers are ready to ſail from Dunkirk; which ſhews England the Danger of ſuch a port, which ſhould be totally demoliſhed before a peace is concluded. All the artificers in the dock-yard at Breſt are extremely buſy, and they preſume that thoſe at Toulon and Rochefort are equally diligent; in conſequence whereof they boaſt they ſhall be able to ſend to ſea in the ſpring, 60 ſhips of the line. "This general armament, joined to the conſtruction of ſo many flat-bottomed boats, and the aſſembling of an army on the coaſt of the ocean, is very probably deſigned for ſome enterprize more fatal to England, than all the viſits they made to us laſt year were to France." If theſe ſhips dare venture out, the Engliſh have no doubt of making ſuch another glorious ſtroke as was given by Admiral Ruſſel to Count Tourville off la Hogue.

From the LONDON GAZETTE, March 3.

Commodore Keppel is returned from the Coaſt of Africa to Spithead, with His Majeſty's Ships Torbay of 74 Guns, Naſſau 64, Fougeux 64, and Dunkirk of 60 Guns; having parted with the Prince Edward at Sea.

ADMIRALTY-OFFICE, March 3.

Extract of a Letter from Capt. Samuel Hood, of His Majeſty's Ship the Veſtal, of 32 Guns, and 220 Men, to Mr. Cleveland, Secretary to the Admiralty, dated at Spithead the 2d of March, 1759.

"I beg you will be pleaſed to acquaint my Lords Commiſſioners of the Admiralty, that being ſtationed at Daylight four or five Miles a-Head of Admiral Holmes, to look out, on the 21ſt paſt, about 7 o'Clock in the Morning, 200 Leagues S. W. from the Lizard, I ſaw a Sail bearing S. S. E. directly to Windward, and gave Chace. At 11 I diſcovered the Chace to be an Enemy, of which I made the Signal to the Admiral, as I did immediately after, That of being able to ſpeak with her: At ten Minutes paſt Two, I began to engage the Bellona Frigate, commanded by the Count of Beaulionoir, of 32 Guns, within Half Muſket Shot, and continued a cloſe Action till near Six, when ſhe ſtruck, having only her Fore-maſt ſtanding, without Yard or Top-maſt, which ſoon after went away, being much wounded. The Trent chaſed at the ſame Time I did, and then was not more than four Miles to Leeward; but when I began to engage, ſhe was out of Sight from our Top-Gallant-Maſt's Head, tho' ſhe chaſed the whole Time, and the Weather very clear, and was full four Miles from me when the Enemy ſtruck; the Loſs of whom I cannot exactly aſcertain, the Accounts of the Priſoners differing ſo widely; and I can get no proper Roll of Equipage, but it was very great, as the Veſtal's Lieutenant found more than 30 dead upon the Decks when he took Poſſeſſion; and they themſelves own, to have thrown overboard 10 or 12, which, with thoſe now living, being 180, make the Number that were on board, at the Beginning of the Action, upwards of 220, as I have carefully informed myſelf from the Captain, and others of the Officers. On the Part of His Majeſty, were five killed, and 22 wounded. As ſoon as I brought to, after the Enemy ſtruck, all the Top-maſts fell over the Side, being much ſhot, and having no Rigging to ſupport them: The lower Maſts would likewiſe have gone, had not the Weather been very fine indeed; and all the fiſhing I could give the Main maſt, it would not bear other than Jury Yard, which I was likewiſe under a Neceſſity of rigging upon the Foremaſt. In this Situation of His Majeſty's Ship and her Prize, I thought myſelf obliged to bear up for England, eſpecially as the Wind ſhifted in the Action to the S. W. which I hope their Lordſhips will approve. Not being able to put a Boat in the Water, but by launching it over the Side, by which a Cutter was ſunk and loſt; I deſired Capt. Lindſay to ſtay by me, and exchange a Part of the Priſoners, which he did, but having made Room for them on board the Veſtal, by Noon next Day Capt. Lindſay took his Leave, in order to rejoin the Admiral."

Admiralty-Office, March 1. Capt. Colby, of His Majeſty's Ship the Thames, gives an Account in his Letter of the 14th of February, of his having, in Company with the Coventry, taken La Mouche, a French Privateer of Havre de Grace, of 8 ſix Pounders, and 80 Men, which Ship is arrived at Kinſale with the Coventry.

LONDON, February 27.

Some letters from Leghorn ſay, that ten large Engliſh privateers, under Pruſſian colours, were cruizing in ſight of that harbour, and gave great uneaſineſs to all the merchants.

It is rumoured, and with great probability of truth, that Admiral Boſcawen will ſoon ſail to the coaſt of Spain, in order to ſecure the ſucceſſion of Don Carlos to the Spaniſh throne, to which the Britiſh Court is guarantee.

Notice was given from the war-office on Saturday laſt, that, for the future, whoever intends to purchaſe a commiſſion in the army, ſhould firſt inform himſelf at the ſaid office, whether the commiſſion for which he is in treaty, may be ſold with the king's leave: and in all inſtances, where it ſhall be found that any money, or other conſideration, has been given for a commiſſion, not openly ſold with the leave of His Majeſty, the perſon obtaining ſuch commiſſion will be ſuperſeded.

The cloathing Counties of England will ſee with pleaſure, in the Votes of the Houſe of Commons, the attention of their Repreſentatives to promote their intereſt, by the bill which is ordered to be brought in for the better preventing the importation of the woollen manufactures of France into any of the ports of the Levant Sea, by, or on the behalf of, any Britiſh ſubjects.

We are aſſured from good authority, that the French have but 23 men of war of the line in all their European ports; and not above 16 of them capable of being got ready for ſervice in the ſpring.

We are alſo aſſured, that a ſtrong Fleet of Britiſh men of war will be ſent early into the Bay, in order to block them up, as they did all laſt year.

Capt. Hood, commander of the Veſtal frigate, who took the Bellona frigate, was introduced to His Majeſty by the Right Hon. Lord Anſon, and had the honour to kiſs His Majeſty's hand.

March 5. The laſt Letters from Paris, by Way of Flanders, mention, that the Surprize and Conſternation of the French Miniſtry is very great, from the unparallelled laſt London Subſcription; in which 20 Millions of Sterling Money was ſubſcribed, when but only ſix were wanted, amounting to upwards of Four Hundred Millions of

French

French Livres; which has disheartened them very much, considering the Lowness of their Finances.

We hear some Regiments of Foot are ordered to march forthwith to the Isle of Wight, in order to be ready to embark on the first Notice.

His Excellency Field Marshal, Lord Viscount Ligonier, has ordered that the Camp Equipage for all the Regiments of Great-Britain, be furnished compleat by the Beginning of the next Month.

We hear that Preparations are making for the Guards, both Horse and Foot, and several other Regiments, to encamp on Hounslow Heath, by the 10th of April.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, March 4.

"Friday last arrived at Spithead, through the Needles, His Majesty's Ship Kennington, Capt. Jacobs, from New-York, who brought over with him General Abercrombie.

"Saturday Morning the above Gentleman set out for London.

"Commodore Keppel set out for London on Friday; that Gentleman has brought with him a very long Nine-pounder, which belonged to Queen Elizabeth; the Founder's Name on it, "PITT."

The Admiralty of Amsterdam have put Rear Admiral Peterson and Capt. Gerard Van-Geel, into Commission.

Part of a Letter from the Hague, March 2.

Last Monday the Equipment of the 25 Ships of the Line was agreed to in the Assembly of the States General, by a Plurality of Votes. The Deputies of the Provinces of Overyssel and Groninguen, entered a Protest on this Occasion; but I have not yet seen it.

Extract of a Letter from Portsmouth, March 5.

"The Ship brought in here by the Prince Edward, Capt. Fortescue, is about 150 Tons, bound from St. Domingo to France, laden with Sugar and Coffee.

"A fatal Misfortune had like to have happened on board the Vestal Frigate at the Time she was engaged with the Bellona. Too much Powder being, through Mistake, brought on the Deck, it blew up, whereby eleven Men were much hurt, and several lost their Sight for some Time, but are since recovered."

Yesterday Se'nnight, the Transports with the Draughts for Germany, sailed from the Road of Leith for Embden, under Convoy of the Garland Man of War.

The Empress of Russia hath sent Marshal Daun a Present of a Sword set with Diamonds, valued at 10,000 Rubles, as a Mark of her Acknowledgment of his Services.

St. JOHN's, in ANTIGUA.

April 21. Yesterday the L. Augusta Packet, Capt. Watson, arrived here in 28 Days from England, and by her we have received the English Prints down to the 12th of March, from the latest of which we learn, that Capt. Tyrrell was introduced to His Majesty by the Right Hon. the Lord Anson, to inform His Majesty of the Progress of Commodore Moore's Squadron: That the Duties agreed on to pay the Interest of this Year's extra Supplies, are, Five per Cent. on all East-India Goods, Tobacco, Sugar, &c. and 1s. per pound on Coffee, &c. That the King of Spain was still alive; but so extremely ill that it was thought he could not live many Hours; and that, as soon as his Death was known, Admiral Boscawen would be invested with a publick Character, and immediately sail to the Coast of Italy with a very powerful Fleet, which was to be joined by a Spanish Squadron.

On the 24th of February, the Cargoes of upwards of 50 Dutch Ships were condemned in the High Court of Admiralty of England.

Capt. Tyrrell may be expected very shortly, with a strong Reinforcement.

On Monday last His Majesty's Sloop Antigua brought in a French Letter of Marque Sloop, of 8 Guns and 50 Men, laden with Sugar, from Guadaloupe for St. Eustatia.

Two Vessels arrived yesterday from Dominico and Guadaloupe, but bring no material advices from thence. The enemy have begun again to throw shells into the Fort of Basseterre, but they do little hurt.

April 25. By Capt. Garraway, who left Guadaloupe last Saturday, we are informed, that the advantages gained by our troops at Petit-Bourg have been seasonably improved: That Col. Crump, with a detachment under his command, had marched a considerable way to the Northward, and taken possession of all the coast, without meeting with any interruption from the enemy; and that after his return to Petit-Bourg, the whole army marched to the Southward, and came to a pass near St. Mary's which was very strongly fortified and defended with seven pieces of cannon; that, however, this pass was forced, and the cannon taken, without any great loss on our side; and that afterwards the troops marched on to St. Mary's, and from thence to La Trois Rivieres, where General Barrington was at the time Capt. Garraway came away.

Capt. Garraway also reports, that the Troops are at this time plentifully supplied with cattle and fresh provisions; and that the Antigua volunteers are particularly useful in procuring fresh stock: And that the general opinion at Guadaloupe is, that the enemy cannot possibly hold out many days longer.

We hear from Guadaloupe, that one of the bombs belonging to Commodore Moore's squadron, in tacking near the shore at the Saints, missed stays, and run aground, and is entirely lost.

May 3. We have Accounts from Guadaloupe (which may be looked on as authentic) that that Island, with all its Dependencies, have been surrendered to His Majesty's Forces under the Command of Major General Barrington; but the Terms of the Capitulation are not yet known here. ---Thus may Britain add to the List of Conquests in the past Year, one of the most valuable Islands in America: An Acquisition equally important, whether we consider it in respect of its own intrific Value to Britain, or the fatal Blow thereby given to the Interest and the Power of France, or in respect to the Security thereby required to our own Colonies and Commerce, and for which we are greatly indebted to the Perseverance and good Conduct of Commodore Moore and General Barrington, and the Bravery of the Forces under their Command.

Extract from a Letter.

"The Attention of every one seems to be now fixed on Commodore Moore, whose Abilities and Care there seems to be fresh Occasion for; tho' Guadaloupe, the immediate Object of our Operations, has been obtained, the Situation of Mr. Bompar's Squadron, creates a further Call for the Commodore's utmost Attention; and however important the original Object of our Armament might be, I doubt not but that Gentleman's Prudence will point out the Means of making this Expedition terminate with more Eclat, and reflect more Honour on the British Arms, than could at first be hoped for."

Seven French Privateers, and four Dutch Sloops, sailed from St. Eustatia the 16th ult. laden with Provisions for the French Islands; they proposed standing a considerable Way to the Northward, and by that Means, passing far enough to Windward of all these Islands, to keep clear of our Cruisers; but the Appearance of a Vessel near St. Eustatia, occasioned the Dutchmen to put back; the seven French Vessels however continued their Course, and near Sombrera, fell in with Captain Fawkener of the Brigantine Unity, bound from Philadelphia to St. Christophers with Provisions, whom two of them took, and carried with them till Saturday last, when (being to Windward of this Island) they gave Captain Fawkener and his People a Boat, in which they arrived at the Valley, the Day following.

Basseterre, in St. Christophers, April 11.

The London, Capt. Moran, has, on her Passage for this Island, retaken, and carried into Madeira, a Vessel belonging to Dublin, named the Grace, which had been taken by two French Privateers.

The Free Mason Privateer has carried into Sandy Point, the Complaisante, a French Ship, bound from Martinico.

Vienna, Feb. 9. Every thing is ready for the opening of the campaign, which in all appearance will be decisive, if what is asserted be true, that the Empress of Russia will employ this year 150,000 men against the King of Prussia. However formidable the forces of our Court may be, they are still negotiating, in order to augment them, by taking into the Queen's pay the Palatine troops, and those of Wirtemberg, which will serve to replace the Austrian regiments that make a part of the army of the Empire. It is true, the storm which is gathered in Italy might disconcert our plan of operations if it should come down; but the Court is taking proper measures to preserve the peace and tranquility of that country, even if the King of Spain should die. The negotiations begun with this view at the Court of Naples, are in a good way.

Hague, Feb. 20. General Yorke hath within these few days received two expresses sent to him from London, with very favourable instructions, by way of reply to the Resolution of their High Mightinesses, which was lately delivered to him on occasion of his memorial. His Excellency is this day to present a new memorial to the Deputies of their High Mightinesses on this subject.

Stockholm, Feb. 2. We are very impatient to know the British Court's answer to the complaint made about the depredations of English privateers on our ships, for which the King has demanded satisfaction. Whatever may be the success of this step, we are assured, that besides the precautions taken by the Government to protect the navigation in the North and Mediterranean Seas, it will make a Convention with three Potentates that will secure the Swedish Flag from all future insults.

Paris, Feb. 4. The King asked Father Desmaretz, his Confessor, to day: 'Have you no news from Lisbon?' "None, Sire," replied the Jesuit' 'Then I tell you (said the King) 'three of your brethen are hanged there.'

Paris, Feb. 18. Letters from Brest advise, that the Theseus, of 74 guns, was launched there a few days ago; and that they were working night and day to compleat the Royal-Louis, of 116 guns. At Rochfort they work with incredible diligence to compleat and equip all the vessels in that harbour; and in order to facilitate this, all the old debts are discharged, and every thing is paid for with ready money.

Madrid, Feb. 6. The news brought five or six days ago from the Castle of Villa-Viciosa, threw all the people of this city into the greatest consternation, the King being then so feeble, that he was absolutely given over; but when he seemed to be just at the last gasp, the disease suddenly took a favourable turn: his Majesty has been a whole day in a situation that gives hopes of a recovery; and letters just received from the said castle import, that he sleeps very quietly.

Paris, Feb. 22. A Courier is just arrived here from Madrid, with an Account, that the King of Spain was surprisingly recovered; and his Physicians were in great Hopes that they should very soon be able to pronounce his Majesty to be out of Danger.

LONDON, March 3.

Extract of a Letter from a Merchant at Copenhagen, to his Friend in London, dated February 8.

"I was surprized to hear the various Reports that have been spread abroad, that this Court was going to declare War against Great-Britain, and that 18 English Ships had been stopped at Fleckray, in Norway, by an Order from Court; which is inconsistent with Truth and Policy, for whoever is acquainted with the Danish Policy must know better: The only Court that they are jealous of, and which they watch most, is that of Russia, and that is for a very substantial Reason; because the present Grand Duke of Russia is Duke of Holstein, Part of which, and of Slesvick, were, in the Swedish War under Charles XII. taken from the Grandfather of the present Duke, who married King Charles's Sister, and was with him till he was killed in the Battle of Cracow in Poland. Now, as the present Duke is so powerful, the Court of Denmark is fearful of the Russians, lest they should retake those Dominions their Ancestors lost. It is their Interest therefore to seek the Friendship and Alliance of England, to assist them in case of an Invasion by the Russians."

All the Officers going on the intended expedition are ordered to be ready on the least notice.---It is said the Earl of Ancram will have the command of the land forces.

Whether the Differences between their High Mightinesses the States General, and the British Court, can be terminated without a Rupture, will depend, in a great Measure, on the Success of our Expedition to the West-Indies. It needs no great Penetration to discover, that if Commodore Hughes succeeds, the Cause of the Quarrel will be removed at once. The English will themselves be in Possession of the Islands, the Trade to which gives the Umbrage; and the Dutch will then have the Shame of exposing their own Folly.

The following is a Part of a Postscript to a Letter from a Person at Amsterdam to his Friend in London.

'The Enemies to England, whose Number here are not very inconsiderable, report, upon the Credit of some Letters from France, that a powerful Fleet will shortly sail from Brest, destined to attack Boston or New-York, which they assert have not sufficient Strength to withstand the Force that will be sent against one or both of those Places; certain, however, it is, that a large Fleet is ready to sail from Brest the first fair Wind.'

BOSTON, May 14.

The Transports having on board the Detachment of the Train of Artillery which wintered in this Town, as also the Mortars, Cannon, and Stores belonging to the Train have fell down to Nantasket, in order to proceed, under Convoy of his Majesty's Ship Hind, to join the Fleet under Admiral Saunders.

His Majesty's 48th Regiment, which had been for some Time past quartered in this Town, also embarked last Friday, to proceed to join the others of his Majesty's Forces under General Wolfe,

Since our last several Detachments of our Provincial Troops embarked and sailed for their respective Destinations in Nova Scotia, under Convoy of the Province Ship of War King George; the Remainder of the Troops are embarking with all Expedition, and will soon sail for Nova Scotia.

We have the Pleasure to acquaint the Publick, that the 500 Men voted by this Province, for the Service of His Majesty in the present Expedition, are not only raised, and the greater Part of them marched to the Places where they are destined, but that the 1500 Men voted as an Addition about three Weeks past, are now almost compleat, being raised wholly by Inlistment, at a Bounty of £10 10s. Sterling per Man; so that exclusive of upwards of 500 for the Protection of our own Frontiers, we have now furnished 6500 Men for the general Service of the Year.----Add to this Number, all that have been engaged as Rangers, Battoe-men, Artificers, &c. &c. and it makes not less than 10,000 of our most useful Inhabitants.---Such Exertions from Year to Year, by a Province, which did not contain before the War, but about 40,000 Males, from 16 to 70 Years of Age, seems almost incredible.

NEWPORT, May 15.

On Sunday last arrived here, in 22 Days from Monte Christo, the Schooner Dolphin, Thomas Steele, Commander, who informs, that about 5 Days before his Departure, a Sloop from St. Kitts, came into that Port; the Captain of which gave an Account, that he fell in with the French Fleet between Porto-Rico and Hispaniola, consisting of 8 Sail of the Line, having a Number of other Ships in Company, from whom he very narrowly escaped being taken; and as they were standing to the Northward, 'tis not improbable they were bound to Quebec: We heartily wish they may speak with Admiral Saunders's Squadron before they reach their Port.

NEW-YORK, May 21.

The Brig Pompey, Captain Goodwin, arrived here on Tuesday, in 30 Days from Kingston, in Jamaica: Coming thro' the Passage, he fell in with His Majesty's Ships Seaford and Penguin, who were sent to convoy the Packet for England, clear of the Islands: The Captains of the above Vessels, informed Captain Goodwin, they fell in with a Snow and a Dogger, off Crooked Island, which they imagined were French Privateers, that they chased them for a considerable Time, but could not get up with them, and that when they gave over Chace, both the Snow and Dogger steered to the Northward.

Nathaniel Lawrence, Commander of the Letter of Marque Brig Catharine, who arrived from St. Kitts on Thursday last, informs us, That Captain John Wallace, Commander of the Privateer Brig Earl of Loudoun, of this Port, was drowned at that Island, the Beginning of April last, in the Night, attempting to go on board the Vessel in his Jolly Boat; that his Body was found next Morning, and interred very decently.

Friday returned from a Cruize, the Privateer Sloop Abercrombie, Mark Vallantine, Commander, and brought in with him a French Tartan, belonging to Marseilles, but last from Cadiz, bound for Cape-Francois, loaded with Wine and Brandy.

Captain Donaldson, late Commander of the Privateer Ship King of Prussia, of this Port, and about 20 of his People, came Passengers with Captain Vallantine, and informs us, That on the 14th of April, about 8 o'Clock at Night, the said Ship run ashore on a Reef off the N. W. Part of the West Cacases, and soon filled with Water; that Captain Vallantine narrowly escaped the same Fate, being in Company at the Time; that the Crew were all taken on board by Captain Vallantine, as also the Guns, Stores and Rigging, belonging to the King of Prussia.

We hear from Connecticut, that the four Regiments, consisting of 3600 Men, the first Establishment of that Colony, are entirely compleated; and that the General Assembly have granted a Bounty for raising 400 Men more, to augment each Regiment to 1000 Men each.

We have certain Advice from New-Jersey, that the Regiment of that Province, under the Command of the worthy Colonel PETER SCHUYLER, is fully compleated to 1000 Men; and will be ready to embark immediately, to act in Conjunction with the rest of His Majesty's Forces, in the present Campaign.

The Harlequin Sloop Privateer, of this Place, has taken a Sloop loaded with Sugar, &c. which sold for 1500 l. in the West-Indies.

Extract of a Letter from on board the Privateer Ship Stuady-Beggar, Robert Troup, Commander, dated St. Christopher's, April 25, 1759.

"The last Prize we took out of the Fleet, was sent home under the Command of Mr. Preston, which we hope safe arrived: After which we put away for Antigua, where, at the earnest Request of General Thomas, Capt. Troup was prevailed on to convoy 5 Sloops, with the new raised Levies and Stores, down to Grandterre: We stopped at Guadaloupe to cover the Watering Place, for the Convoy to Water, where we were obliged to exchange several Shot with the Enemy: The next Day we arrived at Grandterre, and landed all the Troops; but as Capt. Lynn, in the Roebuck Man of War, had given our Captain a written Order not to anchor there, but immedialely to proceed to St. Anne's, to assist a Bomb and several Transports to reduce that Fortress, and drive away the Enemy; on our Arrival we manned all our Boats, and armed our Men, and immediately joined the Forces, and burnt and destroyed several fine Plantations: In the Interim, the People who took Care of the Ship, took off 22 Hogsheads of Sugar and 6 Negroes: But about an Hour before Sun-set the Troops after having executed their Design, reimbarked; and our People going farther into the Country, met with a Booty of 300 Hogsheads, and between five and six Thousand Loaves of fine white Sugar, (thought it all their own) but the French Brand Mark not being taken off, and the Enemy finding all the Troops gone, they, to the Number of 200 fell upon our People, and dispossessed them of their ill agained Booty: They however, faced the Enemy for some Time, lost one Man, and six taken Prisoners, also 11 small Arms and 3 pair of Pistols; the rest, with some Difficulty got to their Boats. The next Day the Captain sent a Truce to the Spot where our People had engaged, and told them that he had eight Prisoners on board, and that if any of his Men, whom they had taken, were hurt or ill used, he would hang every French Man he had on board at the Yard-arm; on which they sent all our Men back, and we returned theirs also. We then proceeded to Point Petre and the Captain acquainted General Barrington of the Circumſtances of our Expedition, who ſeemed very well pleaſed with his Behaviour and Conduct, and diſmiſſed him with a great many Thanks for his Services: We then went and hove down at Engliſh Harbour, called at St. Kitts, and left our Sugar there, and are now cruizing off of Statia, where the Enemy are daily ſending their Effects. And ſince the Letter was dated, we have taken a ſmall Sloop, loaded with Sugar: And at our Return from Guadaloupe to Antigua, General Thomas, with ſome others, not unmindful of Captain Troup's Services for the general Good, made him a Preſent of a handſome large Silver Bowl, Cup and Salver.

The Sloop What-you-will, Captain Conklin, from this Port, for Antigua, was taken the firſt of April laſt, by a French Privateer Sloop, and carried into Martinico.

PHILADELPHIA, May 24.

Extract of a Letter from Antigua, April 23.

"The Commanders of our Expedition have already had an Anſwer to their Expreſs ſent home by Captain Tyrrell; but we have not yet heard with Certainty what Reinforcement is promiſed; tho' I have ſeen one Letter from a Perſon of good Intelligence in England, which ſays that Captain Tyrrell will have ſix Capital Ships."

Extract of another Letter from Antigua, May 1.

"I can now, with great Pleaſure, congratulate you on the Surrender of Guadaloupe and Grandterre, &c. an Acquiſition, beyond all Diſpute, as valuable as any that has been made during the War, and for which we are greatly indebted to the good Conduct of Commodore Moore, and General Barrington. We have not as yet any authentic Account of the Terms of Capitulation. By the Time Matters can be well ſettled at Guadaloupe, we hope for a ſtrong Reinforcement, and that Commodore Moore will be able to keep M. Bompar from getting out. Let this be done, and I make no Doubt of giving you Joy on a Conqueſt as glorious to Britain, and as fatal to the French, as the Loſs of Louiſbourg was to them."

By Captain Nuttle, who arrived here on Saturday laſt, in thirteen Days Paſſage, from Antigua, we have the following Intelligence, ſaid to be the principal Articles of the Capitulation of Guadaloupe, viz.

"That the Inhabitants are to be diſarmed, and remain perfectly neuter during the War; and at the Peace, if the Iſland is ceded to Great-Britain, they are to enjoy all the Privileges of the other Britiſh Iſlands: That we are to be put in Poſſeſſion of all the Forts, Batteries, &c. and are to eſtabliſh Garriſons, and build Barracks, wherever we find it neceſſary, for the Security and Protection of our new Conqueſt: That all the Produce of the Iſland is to be ſhipped to England in Britiſh Bottoms: That the Inhabitants are to have no Commerce with any other Nation, and are to pay the ſame Duties to the King of England which they paid to the French King: That all public Acts are to be in the Name of His Britannic Majeſty, and all public Officers appointed by him: That the French are to enjoy the free and public Exerciſe of their Religion, Laws, Cuſtoms, &c. And that no Strangers are to be allowed to poſſeſs any Houſes or Lands by Purchaſe, Grant, or otherwiſe, till the Peace."

Captain Nuttle brought us likewiſe what follows, viz. That on the 5th Inſtant the Schooner Clump, Captain Murphy, arrived at Antigua from Prince Rupert's Bay, where he left Commodore Moore with 13 Ships of the Line, two of Forty Guns, and three Frigates: That he heard from on board the Commodore, Monſieur Bompar had got out of Fort-Royal, with nine Sail of the Line, two Frigates, and nineteen Privateers, and had landed 700 Men on the Eaſtermoſt Part of Grandterre; where, after being repulſed by our Forces, they were obliged to reimbark with great Precipitation, with the Loſs of ten Men made Priſoners, one of whom, a Swiſs, was on board the Commodore: That after landing the Men, Bompar left Grandterre, ſteering to Windward of Deſeada: And that on the Tueſday before Capt. Murphy arrived, at Twelve o'Clock at Night, he ſaw a very large Ship off the Iſland of Marygallante, with all her Top Lights out, which he judged to be the French Admiral, the Commodore having informed him, that he had no cruiſing Ship out, except the Antigua.

And by a Veſſel which arrived at Antigua the ſame Day from Guadaloupe, in which was a Gentleman who had been Priſoner in the Dos d'Aſne five Weeks, they were informed, that as many French as three Flat Bottom Boats could hold (who would not take the Oath of Allegiance to His Britannic Majeſty) were put on board two Tranſports at Baſſeterre for Martinico; and it was ſaid many more of the French Inhabitants would ſoon follow them, for the ſame Reaſon.

In a Letter from Antigua, dated the Beginning of this Month, there is the following Paragraph.

"Guadaloupe, Grandterre, the Saints, and Deſeada, have conſented to change their Maſter.---From the Day we landed, and drove the Enemy from their Entrenchments at the River Coif, to that on which we received their firſt Terms of Capitulation, we had little or no Reſt; but we muſt not complain of ten Days Fatigue, ſince they have added ſo valuable a Jewel to the Crown of Great-Britain. We have now Poſſeſſion of the moſt fertile Iſland, and the beſt ſituated, for the Protection of the outward bound Ships to all our Sugar Colonies."

The ſame Letter mentions, that General Barrington intended to appoint Colonel Crump Governor of Guadaloupe, till His Majeſty's Pleaſure ſhould be known, and to leave a Garriſon of three Regiments under his Command.

Captain Stevenſon, of the Ship Prince George, of this Port, bound to Antigua, is taken, and carried to Martinico.

The Ship Nancy, Captain Billinge, from this Harbour to Jamaica, is loſt on the Plate Wreck.

The Saliſbury, Captain Appleton, from Piſcataqua for Jamaica, is taken, and ſent to Port-au-Prince.

Captain Parker, in the Eliſabeth, from the ſame Port, deſigned for Antigua, was taken in January laſt, and ſent to Grandterre.

And the Snow Halifax, alſo from the ſame Place, and likewiſe for Antigua, is caſt away on Barbuda.

Captain Miller, from St. Chriſtophers, informs, that a Veſſel had come in before he ſailed, the Maſter of which declared, that he ſaw Bompar's Fleet off the Iſland of Aves.

Extract of a Letter from Captain Richey, of the Brig Grace, of this Port, dated off Cape-May on Monday laſt.

"This ſerves to adviſe you of my ſafe Arrival here this Day at Noon, in Company with the Snow Charming Rachel, of Bourdeaux, late Captain John Tanays, but now commanded by Thomas Webſter. I left Briſtol the 21ſt of March; and on Wedneſday, the 4th of April, being about 100 Leagues to the Weſtward of Cape-Clear, a large Ship to Windward gave me Chace about Two in the Afternoon, and at Six was within Gun Shot, hoiſted French Colours, and fired his Bow Chace. We then began to play four Guns upon him from our Stern. At Half paſt Seven he ran cloſe up along our Starboard Side, and gave us his whole Broadſide of Great Guns, with a vaſt Number of Small-arms from his Tops and Quarter-deck. We returned the Fire, and engaged him very warmly for five Glaſſes. He then being to Leeward of us, bore away to refit, as I imagine. We were much ſhattered in both Sails and Rigging, but got them repaired as quick as poſſible, and kept cloſe to the Wind, and I could ſee he did ſo too, endeavouring to get up with us. I took the Opportunity of a Squall to go on the other Tack, with an Intent to loſe him, which had the deſired Effect; but next Day, the Wind coming to the N. W. I put about, and ſtood to the Southward, and at Ten in the Morning ſaw a Sail upon the Weather Bow, which I judged to be the ſame Ship, ſo tacked directly, and ſtood from her; but ſhe crouded all the Sail ſhe could after us, and ſome of our ſtudding Sail Booms giving Way, at Seven at Night ſhe came up with us, when we began a ſecond Engagement, within Piſtol Shot of each other, which continued very ſmartly for ſix Glaſſes; when, I believe, ſome principal Officer was killed on board the Ship, a great Noiſe being heard among them. He then bore away before the Wind, with his Sails all flying about, his Yards ſhot away, and I believe he was in a very bad Condition, otherwiſe he would not have bore away, being of far ſuperior Force to the Grace. I could not count his Guns exactly, but am ſure he had not leſs than 22, nor more than 26. All his Shot, found on board us, are Nine-pounders; one of which came in a little above the Water's Edge, and went thro' my Cheſt. I had eight Men wounded at the lower Deck Guns, the Man at the Helm, and two more upon Deck, and was left a meer Wreck; the Hull very much ſhattered; the Foremaſt ſhot half thro'; the main Rigging and Sails all ſhot away; ſome of our lower Deck Ports, one of our Pumps, and Bulk Head knocked to Pieces; in ſhort, both Maſts, and Boom, are gone. The Day after I fell in with the Engliſh Fleet from South-Carolina, who ſupplied me with a Fiſh for the Foremaſt, and ſeveral other Neceſſaries. I then proceeded on, and on the 12th of April came up with the Snow, and took her, without any Reſiſtance; ſhe is between Two and Three Hundred Tons Burthen, loaded with Dry Goods, Wine, Brandy, Flour, Pork and other Commodities, for Quebeck, manned with 23 Men and Boys, the Doctor of which has been of great Service to the wounded Men, having no Doctor of my own, and ſome of their Wounds very bad; but, thank God, they are now all in a fair Way of Recovery, and moſt of them able to do Duty."

At a Court of Oyer and Terminer, held laſt Week at Lancaſter, the following Perſons were tried, found guilty, and received Sentence of Death, viz. Lodowick Divill, for the Murder of James Hamilton; Margaretta Catherina Kirchin, for the Murder of her Baſtard Child; and John Jones, for Burglary.

And at York-Town, Andrew Lidick was tried for the Murder of his Wife, of which he was convicted, and likewiſe received Sentence of Death.

On Thurſday laſt the Letter of Marque Brigantine Grace, Captain Richby, arrived here from Briſtol, by whom we have the following Advices, viz.

NAPLES, January 27.

THE foreign Miniſters, and our Politicians, keep a watchful Eye over the Behaviour of the Pruſſian General that is actually in this City. They ſuſpect ſomething myſterious in the real or feigned Indiſpoſition of that Officer. It may indeed ſerve to conceal the principal Part of his Errand; an Indiſpoſition and a ſecret Commiſſion being Things no Way incompatible; he may very well uſe the Baths of Iſchia for his Health, and at the ſame Time negociate under Hand for the King his Maſter. In delicate Negociations there is often a Neceſſity for uſing indirect Means.

Berlin, Feb. 4. All the Troops quartered in Sileſia, have received Orders to hold themſelves ready to march on the ſhorteſt Notice; but to what Part they are to direct their March, is not known. It has been reported for ſome Days, that His Majeſty intends to begin his Operations by invading Bohemia, but it is much queſtioned whether this really be his Deſign. His Majeſty hath too much Diſcretion to communicate his Project to any one. Whatever be in this, the Army which that Prince is to command in Perſon, will conſiſt of about 60,000 of his beſt Troops; and Prince Henry's will amount to 25,000, excluſive of a Body of Light Troops, which will be commanded by General Itzenplitz. If the Ruſſians make their Appearance again, Count Dohna's Army will be conſiderably reinforced, and that General will be put in a Condition to oppoſe their Attempts. With this View His Majeſty will leave ſtrong Garriſons in the frontier Towns. In ſhort, it is reckoned that His Majeſty's Forces already amount to upwards of 200,000 Men; nevertheleſs he is daily levying Men, not to complete the Regiments that are on Foot, but to form new Ones.

Vienna, Feb. 7. We are equally uneaſy about the King of Sardinia's military Preparations, and the March of a Body of Pruſſian Troops into Poland, with a Deſign to ſeize the Magazines of the Ruſſians, and thereby prevent their opening the Campaign ſo ſoon as they intended.

Paris, Feb. 4. A Perſon at Madrid, who pretends to be in the Secret of what is doing with Regard to the Spaniſh Succeſſion, writes as follows: "Don't believe one Word of a Treaty at Naples. His Sicilian Majeſty may poſſibly obtain what he aſks for his ſecond Son, without going to War. If the King of Sardinia will enter into an Alliance with England, to gain Placentia, we cannot hinder him, but he will play high; for if France gives a Paſſage to 35,000 Spaniards, and joins to them 10,000 French, who will ſoon take Poſſeſſion of Savoy, what will his Sardinian Majeſty do, whilſt 25,000 Neapolitans attack him on another Side? The Siege of Toulon is a mere Chimera. Let the King of Sardinia take Care what he does; inſtead of gaining Lombardy, he may poſſibly, when Peace is ſigned, or ſoon after, be forced to pay the Coſts."

Vienna, Feb. 9. Several regiments, both of infantry and cavalry, have orders to hold themſelves in readineſs to march towards Lombardy.

Count Daun's departure for the army is fixed for the 20th of this month.

General Nadaſti will be employed the next campaign, and it is ſaid that a conſiderable number of Hungarian Noblemen will accompany him in the field of Mars.

Munſter, Feb. 14. Since the Engliſh Troops changed their Poſition, every Thing is very quiet. Scarce a Skirmiſh is heard of, tho' before a Day hardly paſſed without ſome between the advanced Poſts of the two Armies.

Feb. 16. The French are laying a Bridge near Danten. This Morning the Pontoons were taken out of the Citadel, and it is ſaid they are to be carried into the Biſhoprick of Oſnabrug. Recruits for the Britiſh Troops daily arrive.

Nuremberg, Feb. 18. It is reported that there has been another ſmart Skirmiſh near Planen, between a large Detachment of Pandours and a Party of Pruſſian Volunteers; that the latter were attacked with great Impetuoſity, but that by means of a ſmall Reinforcement of Cavalry, which came up juſt after the Action began, they ſoon obliged the Enemy to retreat with conſiderable Loſs.

Hanover, Feb. 20. It is given out, that certain Advices have been received here, that a Body of Troops, amounting to 12,000 Men, Part Auſtrians, joined with ſome of the Army of the Empire, who have been for ſome Time paſt in the Neighbourhood of Smalkald and Hirchfeld, have extended themſelves into the Bailiwicks of Landeck and Friedwald; and it is added, that this Step, which was not expected, has occaſioned Prince d'Iſenbourg to cauſe Part of the Troops under his Command to march that way.

Paris, Feb. 19. A War in Italy may tend to bring about a Peace; which Germany eſpecially is in great Need of, having loſt within theſe three Years a Million of its Inhabitants.

Hamburgh, Feb. 26. If we may credit divers private Letters from Mecklenburgh, the Pruſſians not only raiſe heavy Contributions in Money and Forage in that Dutchy, but alſo preſs abundance of young Men into his Pruſſian Majeſty's Service.

'Tis ſaid that the greateſt Part of the Pruſſian Troops which lately returned from Pomerania into Mecklenburgh, have paſſed the Elbe near Boitzenbourg, and are directing their March towards Thuringia.

According to our Advices from Copenhagen, the Negociation between England and Denmark is broke off, and his Daniſh Majeſty is determined not to depart from his Neutrality.

Hague, Feb. 23. Laſt Wedneſday General York delivered to the States of the Province of Holland the Anſwer he had received from his Court to the Propoſitions for an Accommodation which were made to him by the States, with regard to the Diſputes ſubſiſting between us and the Engliſh: but this Anſwer is kept ſo ſecret, that we have not yet been able to come at a Word of it.

Feb. 25. We are informed, by the laſt Letters from Hamburgh, that a large Body of Pruſſian Troops, detached from the Army of General Dohna, advanced the 18th Inſtant towards Fort Pennamund, in order to lay Siege to it; and they ſay the Pruſſians are ſo much the more confident of Succeſs in this Enterprize, as they are well informed that the ſaid Fort is far from being well provided with Neceſſaries for making a good Defence.

Genoa, Feb. 10. Letters from Madrid adviſe, that Men of War are fitting out in all the Spaniſh Ports, to aſſiſt the King of Naples in his Paſſage to Spain, in caſe of the Death of his Catholic Majeſty.

Dreſden, Feb. 18. We have received Advice, that after Part of the Army, commanded by General Dohna, had quitted Pomerania to go into Mecklenburgh, the Swediſh Army, which had been obliged to take Refuge at Stralſund, came out of that Place, and went into the Iſle of Rugen, for the greater Conveniency of Subſiſtence; that the Generals who commanded it, had not only ſeized all the Proviſions they could find in all the Villages near Stralſund, but had likewiſe obliged the Inhabitants of thoſe Places to quit their Habitations. Theſe Advices add, that as ſoon as the Pruſſian Generals were informed of this Step, they ſent to inform General Lantingſhauſen, that they would ſet Fire to all the Villages they ſhould find ſo abandoned.

On the other Hand, Col. Fiſcher is advanced with his Regiment as far as Marbourg. Prince Iſenbourg is aſſembling his Troops near Caſſel, till the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick can bring him Aſſiſtance.

Peterſburgh, Feb. 13. All Hopes of the Return of Peace are now over. General Fermor has received, upon his Route, an Order to return into Pruſſia, and open the Campaign without Delay. Her Imperial Majeſty has made a Preſent of 27 Pieces of Braſs Cannon to the Empreſs-Queen of Hungary, of the Invention of Count Schuwalow. Vienna Feb. 21. Count Montazet is at length ſet out for France with the Plan of Operations.

We are aſſured that notwithſtanding all our Diligence, the King of Pruſſia will again get the Start of us. As he hath none to conſult but himſelf, he iſſues Orders, acts, and marches, as he thinks proper. This is a vaſt Advantage which he hath over Marſhal Daun, whoſe Departure for Bohemia is put off to the 15th of March.

It is ſaid, the ſole Reaſon that Field-Marſhal Count Daun has delayed his going to the Army is, an Expectation of the Hat and Sword, conſecrated by the Pope, which, without Doubt, will contribute not a little to convince the World, that this is not a religious War, as the Proteſtants give out.

Paris, Feb. 26. The Palmier Man of War, of 74 Guns, and a Frigate, are arrived at Breſt from St Domingo, and bring Advice that that Colony was prepared for an hoſtile Reception of the Engliſh.

Amſterdam, March 5. We have Advice, that the Cargoes of Twenty-ſix Dutch Veſſels, detained in England, have been condemned.

From certain Meaſures which have been taken ſince this News was received, there is Reaſon to think that ſome of our Ships of War will ſoon put to Sea.

Hanover Feb. 23. Every Thing is preparing on the Side of Weſtphalia to defeat the Deſigns of the French, who, if we may judge by their Diſpoſitions, ſeem to aim at paſſing the Lippe. General Hardenbergh, who commands at Lipſtadt, has formed a Line along that River, to prevent, or at leaſt obſtruct the Execution of their Deſign. In the mean Time, if we may credit the Accounts given by Deſerters, the Enemy propoſe to open the Campaign with more than ordinary Vigour; and indeed the new Scene which may be opened in caſe of the King of Spain's Death, ſeems to lay them under a Neceſſity of exerting themſelves.

Hamburgh, Feb. 28. Letters from Copenhagen of the 24th ult. adviſe, that an Order was publiſhed there, dated the 16th, commanding all Seafaring Men, Subjects of that Nation, to repair immediately to the Commiſſioners appointed, and enter into the Sea Service, under the Penalty of Death, and Confiſcation of their Effects.

Paris, Feb. 26. 'Tis pretended that the principal, and perhaps the ſole Object of the Efforts of our Generals this Campaign, will be the Deliverance of Saxony; and ſome think this may be effected with a Daſh of the Pen; as 'tis ſaid there are Propoſitions of Peace on the Tapis.

Paris, March 2. On the Repreſentations made by the Court of Bruſſels, a Reſolution has been taken to form immediately a Camp of 25 or 30,000 Men between Bruges and Courtray, to oppoſe the Deſigns which the Engliſh may have againſt the Auſtrian Netherlands; though our Court thinks they will rather make an Attempt on Dunkirk than againſt Oſtend or Nieuport: They have nevertheleſs conſented to this Meaſure, as well to convince the Court of Vienna with what Pleaſure they enter into all its Views, and (which is the ſame Thing) thoſe of the Court of Bruſſels; as becauſe thoſe Troops will be at Hand to relieve relieve Dunkirk if it ſhould be attacked. This Camp will, in caſe of Need, be reinforced with a Part of the Houſhold Troops.

LONDON.

February 17. They write from Peterſburgh, that certain Foreign Miniſters are not extremely ſatisfied with certain Conferences, which they know are carried on; but as theſe are poſitively ſaid to be in Relation to a Treaty of Commerce, they know not how to complain; the rather, becauſe this Court is the worſt in the World for Strangers to attempt aſſuming any new or extraordinary Privileges, and therefore they are forced to be content with communicating their Uneaſineſs and their Doubts to each other.

The Language at Vienna is, that there is nothing to fear in Italy; that there is a great Spirit for the Infant Don Lewis in Spain; and that the King of the Two Sicilies will find it neceſſary to court the Friendſhip of their Imperial Majeſties. But though this is received as Goſpel in the Palace, yet there want not thoſe in the City who look upon it as Apocryphal.

Private Letters from Bruſſels inform us, that the French keep a mighty Stir there, as if England intended to make a Deſcent on the Low Countries in the Summer, with a great Body of regular Troops; to oppoſe which, they pretend it is abſolutely requiſite to aſſemble a potent Army; while more conſiderate People apprehend, that under Colour of this they are defiling Troops towards Dunkirk, with a View of executing ſome ſuch Deſign themſelves.

Affairs in Sweden are more and more embroiled. The Court Party avails itſelf of the Diſaſters which the Army has ſuffered in Pomerania. This Army is diminiſhed near one Half within a few Weeks; which hath made ſuch a ſtrong Impreſſion at Stockholm, that the Senators know not what to do.

Letters from the Hague of the 6th of February adviſe, that notwithſtanding the great Diligence uſed in fitting out the 25 Ships of the Line, three only were then ready for Sea; and they had not got Sailors to man even theſe, nor was it expected they would find enough, if the Admiralties continued to refuſe Bounties.

Another Letter from the Hague of the 9th of February adviſes, that the Seamen enliſted for this new armament receive 3 Florins 10 Sols per Week, beſides the 11 Florins they have per Month; but that they had enliſted only 80 at Amſterdam.

A Portugueſe is taken on board a Ship in Ireland, who had hired himſelf as a Surgeon, and is ſuppoſed to be the Bravoe, who fired at the King of Portugal. A Meſſenger is gone to bring him to Town.

It is ſaid there are greater Quantities of Woollen Goods getting ready to be ſhipped for Portugal, New-York, Barbados, St. Chriſtophers, Boſton, and many other Ports, than ever was known in the Memory of Man.

Feb. 20. They write from Berlin, that the Ruſſian Priſoners confined in the Fortreſs of Magdebourg, being diſſatisfied with their Situation, about 6 Weeks ago attempted to breed a Mutiny; and that ſince the Governor of that Place has ordered ſome Artillery (ready charged) to be planted facing their Quarters, and in Caſe they ſhould make any more Diſturbance, the Guards that watch them had Orders to fire upon them.

We learn by a private Letter from Genoa, that the preſent critical State of Affairs in Italy begins already to work great Effects; the Infant Don Philip having thought proper to embark privately at Porta Spezzia, for France; and Signior Giacomo Grimaldi, who was lately Doge of that Republick, is gone to execute a Commiſſion of great Importance at the Court of Vienna.

According to an exact Roll of the Forces of His Majeſty of the Two Sicilies, they conſiſt of 28,000 Infantry, and 3000 Horſe. About 6000 have taken Poſt in the Neighbourhood of St. Germanno, and the Abbot of the famous Benedictine Monaſtery of Monte Caſſino has had Notice to prepare an Apartment for the Commander in Chief, who intends there to take up his Winter Quarters.

If we may depend upon ſome Advices from Turin, we ſhall very ſpeedily hear of ſome very unexpected Events; more eſpecially if it be true, which they very poſitively write, that a certain great King departed this Life on the 22d of January, notwithſtanding the great Pains taken to conceal that Event.

The Saxon Miniſter at the Court of Vienna, has preſented a Memorial, with an authenticated Liſt of the Proviſions and Contributions levied in that Electorate by the Imperial Troops, to the Amount of one Million two Hundred Thouſand Florins, for which immediate Satisfaction is expected; which occaſions many Speculations, more eſpecially as it is reported, that the Pruſſian Forces, who have penetrated into Poland, are in full March to deſtroy the Ruſſian Magazines.

Yeſterday an Expreſs arrived at the India Houſe, which came over Land from India; and we hear there are Letters which ſay, that General Lally, with the Troops under his Command, was landed at Pondicherry, and preparing to attack our Settlements on that Coaſt.

There is a Report in Town, that the French are meditating a Deſcent upon us with 20,000 Men.

Feb. 22. By Letters from Leghorn of the 2d Inſtant, we learn, that five French Men of War, and ſeveral Privateers, are cruizing off that Port, to intercept our Trade to and from thence; and that ſome Engliſh Ships were blocked up there by them.

LONDON.

Feb. 24. They write from Peterſburgh, that a Paper of great Importance has been ſent to Koningſberg, in order to be publiſhed there, entituled, 'An Expoſition of the Motives of Her Imperial Majeſty's Conduct in regard to Pruſſia, including a Paralel between Her Proceedings in that Kingdom, and thoſe of His Pruſſian Majeſty in the Electorate of Saxony and other States of the Empire.' Some think this is to precede a Step of very great Conſequence, which may poſſibly be the Reduction of Dantzick.

The Pruſſians have levied 40,000 Rix Dollars in Thuringia. Orders have been ſent to Zerbſt to furniſh immediately 800 Recruits, as many Horſes, and 100,000 Rix Dollars. From Deſſau are expected 1000 Recruits, 400 Dollars. From Deſſau are expected 1000 Recruits, 400 Horſes, and 80,000 Rix Dollars; 400 Recruits, 300 Horſes, and 80,000 Rix Dollars from Bernbourg; and one Hundred Recruits from Kothen.

The French Generals have demanded of the Town of Francfort 200,000 Rations of Forage. As it is impoſſible to furniſh it, the Magiſtrates have ſent one of their Number to the Elector of Mentz, to implore his Interceſſion in their Behalf. Letters on the ſame Subject, expreſſed in the moſt pathetic Terms, have been ſent to the Court of Vienna, and to the Diet of the Empire. Mean while the French ſearch all the Granaries, Stables, &c. and ſeize all the Forage they can find.

There are upwards of 30 Ships building at this Time, in publick and private Docks, from Line of Battle Ships down to Frigates.

February 27. Some private Letters received in Holland from Liſbon adviſe, that the Dutcheſs d'Aveiro, with her young Family, are confined in a Convent, without any Attendance, and without being ſuffered to receive any Viſits whatever. Theſe Letters add, "it will, perhaps, appear, that this Lady was the Occaſion of the late Attempt on the King's Life."

March 1. By Letters from Hanover, dated the 15th inſt. we learn, Things are carried on with the greateſt Alacrity to equip the nine Regiments of Foot lately raiſed, which will be ſoon in a Condition to march wherever they ſhall be ordered: Theſe Regiments are intended for a Corps de Reſerve. His Majeſty has likewiſe been pleaſed not only to eſtabliſh the Regiment of Light Troops, under the Command of Baron de Stockhauſen, but to augment the ſame very conſiderably, and put it upon the Footing of that of Baron de Scheither.

Some Letters from Spain by Tueſday's Flanders Mails adviſe, that the King of Spain is much better; and aſſert that neither the Queen Dowager, nor the Infant Don Lewis, were ſuffered to have the Direction of publick Affairs; but they were left to the Miniſtry.

March 3. The laſt Letters from Liſbon mention, that there are above 500 Perſons in Priſon in that City, on Account of the Aſſaſſination Plot; and that the following Jeſuits, who are cloſely confined, are the original Abettors and Promoters of that Diabolical Affair, viz. Father Moreiro, late Confeſſor to the King; Father Hyacinthus da Coſta, late Confeſſor to the Queen; Father Timotheus d'Oliveira, late Confeſſor to the Princeſſes; the Father Rector of the Seminary of d'Arroyos; Father Franciſcus Edward, a famous Preacher of the ſame Place; Father Malagrida, an Italian; Father Joſeph Paradigam, Procurator General of the Society; and Father Joſeph Soares, Procurator of Maragnon.

They talk much at the Hague of an Obſervation made by one of the Deputies of Frieſland on the late Remonſtrance of the Merchants to the States-General; "If, ſaid he, theſe Gentlemen actually paid the French for Goods, to this prodigious Value, it muſt have been by remitting Money to France, and then the French could not be in the deep Diſtreſs that we know they are; or it muſt have been ſent in Proviſions to the French Iſlands, and then they would not have been ſtarving, as is actually the Caſe; or it is to be paid for hereafter, and then, perhaps, a Doubt may ariſe, whether it is Dutch Property yet. Their High Mightineſſes are certainly bound to take Care of their own Plantations; but I don't ſee the Expediency of entering into a War, for the Sake of ſupporting and ſecuring thoſe of another Nation. Let the Concerns of France occupy French Councils; let the Britiſh Intereſts be purſued by the Miniſters of Britain; but let not Favour to this, or Pique to that, engage Dutch Stateſmen to loſe Sight of the real Welfare of Holland."

It is ſaid 15,000 Land Forces, beſides Horſe, &c. will be employed in the firſt Expedition Fleet that ſails, and will be followed a few Days after by two Squadrons, with another Body of Forces.

Coſt what it will, the King is determined his Son ſhall ſucceed him to the Throne of Naples and Sicily; and the Marquis Janucci, the preſent Secretary of State, is appointed Chief in that Government, to commence as ſoon as the King leaves Naples, and goes to Spain.

Our laſt Letters from Madrid, of the 6th ult. give us ſome Hopes of the King of Spain's Recovery. Thoſe from Liſbon, of the 23d of January, agree, that they are carrying on the Proſecutions againſt the reſt of the Accomplices concerned in the late Conſpiracy; but it is thought that his moſt Faithful Majeſty, whoſe Character is that of a Diſpoſition to Clemency, would content himſelf, either by baniſhing or impriſoning thoſe unhappy Perſons during Life.

They write from Rome, that the Neapolitan Troops have not only advanced into the Eccleſiaſtical State, but have alſo demanded Forage and Proviſions; and that, on the other Hand, the Ladies in thoſe Countries have deſired his Holineſs's Permiſſion to retire into Convents, that they may be leſs expoſed to the Inſults of the Soldiery.

They write from Vienna of the 17th ult. that the Ruſſian Ambaſſador there, in his laſt Conference declared, by order of the Empreſs his Miſtreſs, that unleſs the requiſite Subſidies in Money, be paid regularly by the Court of Vienna, very little Succeſs can be expected from the Ruſſian Army the enſuing Campaign.

The Advices publiſhed from Time to Time at Madrid, from Villa Viſcioſa, are ſo indefinite and inconſiſtent, that the great Politicians make no Scruple of conſidering them as artificial Amuſements, contrived on Purpoſe to conceal a certain Event; that till Things are put into a proper Poſture, towards which every poſſible Step is taken, it would not, for a variety of Reaſons, be expedient to make it public, tho' it is thought to be already known at Naples and Turin.

The laſt Letters from the Hague intimate, that a new Circumſtance has ariſen, which, however, they do not clearly explain, that muſt diſpoſe the States General to compromiſe Matters with Great-Britain, upon the beſt Terms they can, in an amicable Manner.

Extract of a Letter from the Hague, March 6.

"The News of the Confiſcation of the Dutch Ships at London, and of his Britannick Majeſty's perſiſting in his Reſolution to ſuffer no Neutral Ships to trade to the French Colonies, hath cauſed a general Diſcontent in this Country, particularly at Amſterdam. The Merchants of that City have ſent hither a new Deputation, who on Friday laſt preſented a Petition to the States General, and to the States of Holland, praying that their High Mightineſſes would be pleaſed to ſend a Deputation to the Court of London, to make Remonſtrances once more both in regard to the Confiſcation of the Ships detained in England, and to the Prohibition of trading to the French Colonies."

It is computed that the additional Duty of 12 d. in the Pound (to be laid on all Tobacco, foreign Linens, Sugar, and other Grocery, Eaſt-India Goods, foreign Brandy, and Spirits, and Paper imported, according to their Value in the Book of Rates, or any Act of Parliament) will produce 215,300 l. and that the additional Duty of 1 s. on each Pound Weight of Chocolate, to be paid by the Seller or Maker of the Chocolate, will produce 20,000 l. in all 235,000 l. a Year.

NEW-YORK, May 28.

Capt. Courtney, of the Sloop Achilles, arrived here Wedneſday laſt from Louiſbourg, in 16 Days. On the 16th of May, being in Lat. 40. 46. North, and Long. 68. 00. Weſt from London, he ſpoke with a Sloop from Surinam, bound to Rhode Iſland, Randall Holden, Maſter, who had been ſeven Months out of Surinam, had loſt his Maſt the 6th of January laſt, as likewiſe his Sails, except a Piece of an old Mainſail, and a Flying Jib, had but the Maſter and two Men alive, and had neither Bread nor Meat on board; when Courtney ſpared them about 20 Pounds of Beef and Pork, and about four Dozen of Biſket, being very ſhort himſelf.

Laſt Monday arrived here the Ship Bradſtreet, Captain Iſaac Woorden, from St. Martins, which he left the 6th of May. He informs us, that the Day he left St. Martins, he ſaw and ſpoke to one Kinnion, a Perſon who conſtantly trades from that Iſland, among the French, and who aſſured him, that on the 28th of April, he ſpoke to the General of the French Forces which were landed that Day at St. Francois on Grandterre, in order to aſſiſt their Countrymen: That the General told him he was brought thither by two Frigates only, of Monſieur Bompar's Squadron, and five Privateers, who as ſoon as they landed him, immediately put to Sea: That when he heard Guadaloupe was ſurrendered to General Barrington, he made a Signal to the Frigates to return and take off his Men, which they did the ſame Day they landed, without Moleſtation: And that he had detained a French Privateer Sloop, which put into the Mole of St. Francois (with a Philadelphia Snow ſhe had made Prize of) in order to carry him and ſome few of his Officers back to Martinico.

The French General was alſo very inquiſitive of Mr. Kinnion, about the future Operations of our Forces, the which he was not backward in letting him know, as far as he was acquainted, by telling him they were actually to make a Deſcent upon Martinico, upon the Arrival of a Reinforcement from Home, which was hourly expected; the General ſoon after went off with ſhrug Shoulders, and a fallen Look.

Thurſday laſt arrived here a French Prize Sloop, called La Fortune, taken on the 4th of April laſt, by the Privateer Ship General Johnſon, Capt. Little, of this Port. She was bound from St. Louis, on Hiſpaniola, to Coracoa, is loaded with Sugar, Cotton, and Coffee; and had three Frenchmen on board, who ſay the Sloop and Cargo are entirely French Property.

Captain Little, the ſame Day took a Schooner bound from and to the aforeſaid Ports, which he ranſomed for about 1400 Dollars: And in his cruizing Ground, when the La Fortune left him, he made no Doubt, if his Intelligence was good, of taking ſome valuable Prizes.

On Friday the Brig Abigail, Captain Philipſe, arrived here in 18 Days from Monto Chriſto. In his Paſſage he fell in with His Majeſty's Ships the Namure, Auguſta, and Edinburgh, who were cruizing off the Old Cape, and intended ſoon to ſail for the Mount, to put a Stop to the Trade carried on at that Place by the Engliſh.

A Gentleman from Albany informs us, That there was but 6 of the Party of Rangers killed and ſcalped by the Enemy, inſtead of 36, as was at firſt reported. The Party, conſiſting of 36, went out under the Command of a Lieutenant, and being between Fort Edward and Lake George, were attacked by a large Party of French and Indians, which they twice bravely repulſed; but another Party coming up, they were overpowered by Numbers, 6 being killed, and the reſt taken Priſoners, and carried to Ticonderoga.

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.

The Prize Snow, brought in by Captain Ritchie, belonged to a Fleet of ſixteen or ſeventeen Sail, from Bourdeaux for Quebec, laden with Proviſions; all Veſſels of Force; each Ship had a Number of Soldiers on board; and they were convoyed by two or three 36 Gun Frigates.

We hear, that at a Treaty lately held with the Indians at Sir William Johnſon's, among the Priſoners delivered to him, there was one belonging to this Province, a Girl of five Years old, of the Name of Armſtrong, taken from Juniata; and that the different Nations, at that Meeting, had obliged themſelves to ſend all the Priſoners to Governor DENNY next Fall.

Captain Archbold, from the Bay of Honduras, on his Paſſage ſpoke with the Britannia Privateer, of this Port, Captain M'Pherſon, who had taken another ſmall Privateer, and a little Veſſel with Sugar, her Prize.

A Letter from a Gentleman at Cape-Francois, dated the Third of March, mentions the St. Florentine, of 64 Guns, and 300 Men, having ſailed from the Cape on the Fourteenth of February, in order to cruize on this Coaſt. This Ship came to the Cape from Bourdeaux.

Captain Spain, in the Chippenham, from London for this Place, was in the Downs the 13th of March.

Arrived from this Harbour. The Myrtilla, Bolitho, at London; the Severn, Hatton, at Briſtol; the Sally, Whitlock, at Cork; and Captain Kirl, at Providence.
